Navy Reports Blockade Of Korea Complete

Navy Casts Doubt On Report Of Red Subs Being Bombed

By DARRELL GARWOOD
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, July 7.—The Navy announced today that its blockade of Korea is completely effective despite reports that Communist forces are advancing along the eastern coast toward the port of Pusan.

Latest reports paced the Communists only 75 miles north of the important port, through which all U. S. troops and equipment must move.

The Navy quoted Rear Adm. John M, Higgins, commanding the eastern blockading task force, as denying that any troops or supplies are moving down the coast by water. Higgins radioed an official message to the Navy declaring:

They are moving by land, and not by sea.

Cast Doubt on Reports

The Navy, at the same time, cast doubt on reports that American B-29s have bombed four Russian submarines in the North Korean port of Chinnampo.

A Navy spokesman said he was "inclined to doubt" that the craft hit in the port were submarines. He said no photographic reconnaissance was made and that the pilots could easily have been mistaken as to the nature of the vessels.

The Navy also announced that two more heavy cruisers and seven destroyers have left the west coast to join the 27,000-ton aircraft carrier Philippine Sea at Pearl Harbor to await "further orders."

The task force, led by the heavy cruiser Helena and commanded by Rear Adm. Charles C. Hartman, left Long Beach, Calif., yesterday.

The Navy said that it is running into "tremendous requirements" in its efforts to move supplies and men to Gen. MacArthur to support the South Korean war effort.

A spokesman said that both sea and air transport are "overtaxed," and that it will "take some time" to concentrate enough shipping in the Pacific to relieve the problem.

In addition to the Helena, the warships in Hartman's task force are the cruiser Toledo and the destroyers Craig, Parks, Southerland Wiltsie, Chandler, Hamner and Chevalier.

Naval And Air Forces Attack North Koreans

U.S. Ground Force Strength Mounting Says Korean Report

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN
(Far Eastern Director, I. N. S.)

TOKYO, July 8—(Saturday)—United States tanks were moving up to the Korean front Friday night to support for the first time American ground troops reported to have regained six miles in a northward counter-thrust above the Kum river.

U. S. advanced units sent out reconnaissance parties in combat strength shortly before General Douglas MacArthur announced that invading North Korean Communists were continuing an enveloping movement with four divisions against defending positions.

MacArthur's Friday communique, issued at midnight, told of powerful Red pressure along the entire flaming front.

New U. S. Attacks

In devastating retaliatory blows American naval forces bombarded oil tanks, bridges and enemy shipping on the east coast, drawing ineffective fire from Communist shore batteries.

New air strikes by American bombers and fighter planes were reported in the communique against oil tanks, railroads and enemy armored vehicles on both sides of the border between North and South Korea.

Describing the ground action, MacArthur's communique said:

"North Korean forces continued to press south with an enveloping movement by the Third and Fourth Divisions until their front line reached from a point north of Chonan northeast of Magung, 25 miles west of Pyongtaek, then to Chunju, 40 miles west of Pyongtaek and thence east generally to the east coast."

Pyongtaek is 47 miles northnorthwest of the South Korean bastion of Taejon and 34 miles north of the Kum river, the last natural defense barrier above Taejon.

The North Korean Fifth Division was reported "probing" south and west from Wonju. 52 miles east of Red-held Suwon, with some elements moving west to Ansong, just below Suwon.

Congress May Not Adjourn By August 1

WASHINGTON, July 7—(INS)—War news from Korea moved Congress today to consider increasing American military power at home and abroad.

The need for serious consideration of the Korean situation, as well as the overall world military picture, may delay adjournment beyond the target date of Aug. 1.

The Senate Armed Services Committee starts Tuesday an inquiry into the military suitation, probing the volume of U. S. military supplies sent to Western Europe.

If the committee should decide to ship more arms overseas, or provide more money for arms and men, the Senate will have the first chance to take such a move, as it has not yet approved the 34 billion dollar Omnibus Appropriations Bill.

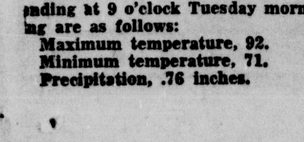

It would only be necessary for the Senate to add additional funds to the bill and then ask House Concurrence.

New Accusations Are Made By Russia Against U.S.

LONDON, July 7.—(INS)—The United States was accused by Russia today of committing a new "act of aggression" by its naval blockade of Korea. The Russians said that the Americans will be held responsible for "all the consequences" of this and their earlier intervention on behalf of South Korea in the fight against communist North Korean forces.

The Soviet stand was made known in a Tass agency dispatch which outlined the Kremlin's answer to America's note to the Russian foreign office on July 4 announcing imposition of a naval blockade of the Korean coast.

Consider U. S. Responsible

The Russian reply said:

"The Soviet government will consider the United States government responsible for all consequences of this act and for all damages which may be caused to the interests of the Soviet Union in

Air Attack On Red Infantry Takes Big Toll

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN
(Far Eastern Director, I. N. S.)

TOKYO, July 7—An entire column of tank-led Communist troops driving on the South Korean hub of Taejon was reported virtually shattered today by a rocket-bombing and strafing American air attack staged in support of hard-pressed U. S. Infantry.

Six to ten North Korean tanks were knocked out and the Red infantry suffered a "heavy toll" of casualties in the low-swooping aerial smash announced at noon today by Gen. Douglas MacArthur's Tokyo headquarters. A front dispatch said the enemy

WASHINGTON, July 7.—The Senate leadership's hope of starting debate on the one-package, 34 billion dollar appropriations bill on Monday hit a snag today.

It was learned that staff members told the committee that they can't lay the 400-page measure on Senators' desks before the middle of the week.

Decision On Use Of Chinese Troops Up To MacArthur

By WILLIAM THEIS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, July 7.—Decision on the use of Chinese Nationalist troops in Korea rests today with Gen. MacArthur and the United Nations.

President Truman, in his weekly news conference, said that the offer of 33,000 Nationalist troops, made by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Chek is an international political issue.

MacArthur, as the United Nations supreme commander in Korea, has the final decision in the matter, although the recommendations of the UN at Lake Success and those of Mr. Truman as commander-in-chief of U. S. forces, undoubtedly will carry weight.

The supreme commander plans to send a staff of military experts to the Nationalist stronghold of Formosa without delay, probably within a week.

Not Likely To Be Accepted

At the moment there is little lieklihood that the Nationalist offer will be accepted.

The far eastern commander will report to top military chiefs in Washington on the problem of defending Formosa and utilizing Nationalist troops, if at all, in the fight to save Korea. From the Pentagon his recommendations will be transmitted to the President and Secretary of State Acheson.

It also is expected that reports will be made to Lake Success.

Chinese Ambassador Wellington Koo has advised the State department that his government agrees to consultations with MacArthur's representatives on the defense of Formosa.

Koo later told newsmen his government estimates that at least 200,000 Chinese communist troops are being moved into Manchuria for probable use in the Korean fighting.

Truman Asks More Atomic Energy Funds

By ROBERT G. NIXON
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, July 7.—President Truman asked congress today for an additional 260 million dollars for the Atomic Energy Commission with empahsis on atomic and hydrogen bomb development.

The chief executive said in a statement that the United States must continue to "strengthen our own defenses".

Mr. Truman again emphasized that this country is seeking "effective international control" of atomic energy.

But, he said, until such an agreement is reached the United States must go ahead in strengthening its defenses "by providing the necessary atomic production capacity".

Russia has blocked every effort made by the United States in the United Nations to effect international control of the atomic bomb.

Greenglass Is Indicted On Spying Charge

SANTA FE, N. M., July 7.—(INS)—The government intends to call more than half a dozen witnesses to testify against David Greenglass, 28-year-old former army sergeant indicted by a Federal grand jury on a charge of spying for the Soviet Union.

The government charged that Greenglass was paid $500 for atomic secrets passed to Russia "on or about June 3, 1945," by Harry Gold, Philadelphia chemist who has confessed giving highly confidential information to the USSR.

Greenglass, born and reared on New York's lower East Side, was arrested in that city on June 15, and charged with espionage. Bond was set at $100,000.

He is charged with passing on top secrets while assigned as a technician fifth class to the atom bomb project in Los Alamos, N. M.

The jury at Santa Fe returned a true bill yesterday on a charge that Greenglass "from Jan. 1, 1946, did conspire, combine, confederate and agree with Harry Gold and Antol A. Yokolov to violate national security with the intent to give information to a foreign power, to wit: Russia".

U.N. SECURITY COUNCIL WILL DEFINE ROLE

symbol of the principle of collective security, the council also is expected to appeal for flying of the U. N.'s globe-encircled flag by all military forces of member nations taking part in the far eastern campaign.

The terms of the resolution were purposely left general in order not to complicate MacArthur's military task.

But its purpose is clear—to forestall a sudden switch in Russian policy, turning from boycott of the security council to active obstruction of U. N. aid to Korea. The USSR yesterday formally rejected the U. N. request to help end the Korean war.

Create Unified Command

The basic intention of today's security council action is to create a symbolic, unified U. N. military command which stands up even if Malik shows up next month to take his turn as security council chairman.

U. N. officials, meanwhile, expressed belief that little practical effect would result from Chinese communist foreign minister Chou En Lai's formal message yesterday to Secretary General Trygve Lie, naming the United States an "open aggressor" for attempting to "neutralize" Formosa.

Chou En Lia's cable said that the Chinese communists would "liberate" the Nationalist island bastion despite President Truman's order sending warships of the U. S. seventh fleet to guard Formosa.

Propaganda Move

While the Chinese communist invasion threat was considered a purely propaganda move, Chou En Lai also bitterly attacked the United Nations for its intervention in Korea.

He called the world organization a "pliant instrument of the policy of the United States government".

The prevailing opinion among U. N. officials was that the Chinese communist leader's note required no reply from Lie. But this did not rule out the eventual effect of the note upon such U. N. member nations as Britain and India which have recognized the Chinese communist regime and urged its admission to the U. N.

offensive light bombers blasted Communist tank concentrations north of Pyongtaek, leaving a number of tanks burning.

MacArthur's report on the air strikes against the invasion army of fifteen divisions, estimated to number 75,000 troops, listed three Mustang fighter planes and two B-26's lost and two crew members of returning planes wounded. The air force previously reported loss of the two B-26's.

The North Korean invasion appeared to have been stemmed, at least momentarily, as American infantry combat teams turned around following Thursday's 12-mile retreat and recovered some of the ground they lost.

The Red onslaught had reached close to Chonan, 20 miles above the Kum river defenses shielding vital Taejon, when the counterthrust was launched Friday morning by U. S. Army reconnaissance parties in combat strength.

Field advices reaching Tokyo Friday night said the Americans had been expecting a dawn attack on the new Yank positions by the Communist tank-led units which held the advantage of initiative as well as manpower and firepower superiority.

Attack Fails To Develop

The attack failed to materialize and the American reconnaissance groups moved north from Chonan to collide with Red patrols three or four miles above that communications center. Unofficial eyewitness reports of the action said the Americans recaptured six miles of territory they had yielded Thursday.

The strength of the U. S. ground forces was described by intelligence reports as "mounting hourly". These reports said American tanks have arrived in Korea and have been given priority on the railroads for movement to the front.

Nothing else but American tanks were seen on flatcars moving through one railroad station en route to the battle area.

Thus, for the first time in the Korean war, now raging into its 14th day, American armored power was entering the conflict to collide with the Russian-made tanks pacing the Red invasion that has engulfed more than a third of South Korea.

American intelligence reports said the North Koreans still have an estimated 140 tanks, as well as ample artillery, on the invasion front. These sources said the invaders had moved 200 tanks across the 38th parallel border and some 60 of these are believed to have been destroyed by American air and ground action.

First Naval Engagement

The admiral disclosed that the Korean war's first naval engagement occurred at dawn July 2 when his warships intercepted four North Korean motor torpedo boats and two motor gunboats heading North from a Red-held port in South Korea.

Higgins' naval force pursued the six Red motor boats and kept them under fire for twenty minutes. One was sunk and the five others were blown up as they sought to reach safety on the beach.

The next day, the Anglo-American task force spotted a small group of ships inside the breakwater of a Communist-captured harbor South of the 38th Parrellel border.

Loaded With Ammunition

Higgins related:

"They appeared to be seven motor trawlers ranging from 250 down to 75 tons. We began shelling them at 10:20 a.m., July 3rd.

"Judging by the results, I would say they were loaded with ammunition.

"We closed in and set fire to all seven. Explosions continued for two hours until 12:20 p.m. Although the breakwater made it difficult for observation, we managed to get a clear view of the targets, even being able to read numbers giving positive identification.

"All seven vessels exploded intermittently during the shelling. They were still smoking when we made an observation the next day."

kind of percentagewise cut to the measure as a whole.

Not Likely to Follow

It appears unlikely that the Senate group will follow the House-passed Taber rider which imposed varying cuts to different classes of expenditures—but left it to the administration to apportion them among the different agencies.

Meanwhile, Sen. O'Mahoney (D) Wyo., announced committee approval of his 8 billion 17 million dollar independent offices appropriation measure—second only to the defense outlay in size.

It was 3.9 millions below the House-passed figure, despite some eight million dollars in new requests not considered by the House. It was 449 millions below President Truman's budget request.

However, the administration is ready to ask an additional 300 millions for atomic-hydrogen development, besides the 647.8 millions approved by the Senate committee.

It also was considered possible that the Korean war situation might cause the Senate to add to the already large military appropriation.

MARY JO KAUFMAN GUEST AT SHOWER

Miss Shirley Brooks and Mrs. Charles Smith entertained at a lovely pre-nuptial shower for Miss Mary Jo Kaufman on a recent evening. Guests assembled at the home of Miss Brooks' mother, Mrs. Albert Brooks of Crawford avenue.

A pink and white color theme was carried out in the festive bridal appointments. A large pink and white umbrella was suspended from the chandelier over the dining room table. Streamers extended from the umbrella, and as the honoree pulled each ri' bon, gifts were presented to the bride-elect.

The hostesses later served a dainty lunch, assisted by Mrs. Brooks and Miss Janet Smith. Miniature umbrellas marked each place setting, concealing the news "Mary Jo and Dale."

Miss Kaufman, daughter of Mrs. Willis Case of 603 Court street, will become the bride of Dale McClain, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles McClain of Enon Valley on Saturday, July 15.

A hotly-contested battle it was, with Mrs. Herbert Ketchum tying for first place in the 18-hole event with Miss Clara Harsuff, despite the sinking of a sterling approach shot by the latter on No. 4.

For second place, a triple tie occurred with Mrs. Roy Preston, Mrs. Roy Finkel and Miss Kathleen Riley all sharing honors. Mrs. Grover Washabaugh, Jr., won first place in the 9-hole competition with her all-time lowest score. Mrs. William Eckles was runner-up.

Much excitement is rife over the July handicap which starts as of now. The first round should be played at the latest by July 13. So seek out your competitor, all you golfers, make a date, and enter into combat!

LANIGAN-PANDER EXCHANGE OF VOWS

Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. Pander, Jr., are "at home" at 1214 Huron avenue following a honeymoon to New York City.

Mrs. Pander, the former Miss Ruth Lanigan, became the bride of Edward Pander, Jr., on July 1 in the First Methodist church. The impressive nuptial vows were repeated by the young couple at 7:30 o'clock, with Rev. James A. Gaiser officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Marie Lanigan of 1214 Huron avenue, and Mr. Pander is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Pander, Sr., of 1212 Huron avenue.

A gown of satin and marquisette was worn by the attractive bride, with a yoke of silk illusion, edged with a satin band, featuirng the fitted satin bodice. Dainty inserts of Chantilly lace enhanced the beauty of the full nylon marquisette skirt, which flowed into a cathedral train. Her silk illusion veil cascaded from a sweetheart bonnet of orange blossoms and Chantilly lace. She carried a bouquet of white roses and wore a strand of pearls, a gift of the groom.

Miss Dorothy Johnson attended the bride as maid of honor. She was attired in a gown of maize nylon marquisette, fashioned with a molded bodice and scalloped fold around the sheer yoke. A sweetheart hat of maize colored lace and aqua flowers was a pleasing accent of the ensemble. She carried a fan-shaped bouquet of yellow roses.

Bridesmaids for the occasion were the Misses Jean Scala and Mary Krosovic. They wore with charm gowns styled like that of the maid of honor. Dainty halo hats matched their gowns, and they carried fan-shaped bouquets of pink roses.

KOREAN VULNERABILITY

What caused the shocking collapse of the South Korean Army. Time magazine on June 5 said "most observers now rate the 100,000-man South Korean Army as the best of its size in Asia . . . And no one now believes that the Russian-trained North Korean Army could pull off a quick, successful invasion of the South without heavy reinforcements."

Yet the same Time article contained plenty of factual information throwing doubt on these conclusions.

The U. S. trained army in Korea had no tanks, and no men trained to operate tanks. It has no planes except 10 trainears and a few Cub liaison planes. How, then, could it have been expected to stand against a surprise attack, spearheaded by heavy Russian tanks and covered by air support from Russian jet planes?

The Korean Army, moreover, was made up of green men who had never been under fire and had no stand-and-fight traditions. Many of their officers were former Japanese majors and lieutenants. It is not surprising that their morale broke when huge Russian tanks came roaring at them.

That isn't all. When the United States pulled its troops out last year, there was only a 15,000 man constabulary force in all South Korea. When the Communists attacked the rookie army of South Korea had only 10 days' supply of ammunition. American supplies were "on order."

The home front was in bad shape, too. Russia's division of Korea—so drastic that North Korea refused to sell South Korea the fertilizer it needed—made recovery difficult. Inflation had been mounting. Guerillas organized to fight Japanese rule were Communist-led.

Some of these conditions were being slowly improved by U. S. aid and advice, but insufficient progress had been made to promote high morale.

ACCORDING TO PLAN

Hitler knew the value of the big lie—the flat statement so far from the facts that decent people find it hard to believe anyone could be wicked enough to make it. Russia's Communist leaders understand it too. They constantly use the principle in their propaganda.

They are following it now in the case of Korea. They are saying over and over again that the South Korean regime started the fighting there.

This assertion has been made not only in the Soviet press but it appears in the Russian reply to the American note asking cooperation in getting North Korean forces out of South Korea.

Americans, knowing that trustworthy correspondents attributed the first blow to North Koreans, will recognize this Russian Communist lie for what it is. Moscow does not hope to fool Americans by its campaign of lies. Apparently the tripe is dished out for its possible effect in parts of the world where the free American press does not penetrate.

An interesting Tass dispatch from North Korea appeared in the Moscow newspaper Izvestia on June 10. It revealed plans by the North Korean regime to unite Korea by August 15, the fifth anniversay of Korea's liberation from Japan. It laid down a schedule that could not have been imposed except by force.

For example, it called for the election of a national assembly by voters in both parts of Korea and set a meeting of this body for August 15 in Seoul. The North Korean government would brook no interference by the UN Commission, the news story disclosed.

Three weeks before the actual outbreak, the North Korean regime revealed its aim and laid down this time-table.

CUT THE WASTE

In this international situation it is more than ever advisable for America to give attention to the utmost economy so that the war will not entail huge expenditures over the receipts, thus hastening inflation. Inflation would be a weakening influence in the contest with Russia.

The dictator states always realize that they have no room for the softnesses of the "welfare state." They are completely absorbed in the attainment of an aggressive strength. Such peoples in the past have often upset great nations and overturned civilizations.

Washington's commitment to fight aggression all over the world is a serious development. It has no place in company with vote-buying extravagances, with a government having much waste motion which feew seem particularly interested in removing. The diversion of multi-billions of dollars to purposes which only weaken the nation is something which the American people should denounce with all their power.

The entire root of a dandelion, no matter how large or wide-spread, must be pulled up, a garden article tells us. And then, we suppose, we put back what's left of the lawn?

A Bloomington, Ill., woman hid her household budget money in a refrigerator. A burglar stole it. He was looking, no doubt, for cold cash.

The world is consuming more sugar than ever, according to an industry report. Aside from that the old globe is having a far from sweet time.

Chinese pagodas, we read, have an uneven number of stories because odd numbers are considered lucky. How about thirteen?

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. OESTREICHER, INS Foreign Director

British Labor Government Gainer

Great Britain's labor government, hammered between pillar and post for months on every conceivable issue of domestic or international importance, found itself an almost surprised gainer in the Korean war today.

For Winston Churchill, who as Prime Minister commanded all of the British Empire throughout World War II, gave his successor Clement Attlee an all-out endorsement to which it is difficult to find a parallel.

Support Decision

Churchill said that he and his conservative party support to the utmost Attlee's decision to back the United Nations in its campaign against the Communists in Korea.

It is not unusual in time of actual, declared war for the widely separated political parties of Britain to team up on behalf of major decisions.

But even then, the House of Commons always has had room and space for carping criticism; for charges such as "too little and too late;" for implications that party lines on occasion transcend national emergencies.

Such was not the case when Churchill made clear his stand and emphasized his belief that only United States superiority in the atom bomb is deterring Soviet Russia from creating a third global conflict.

Settlement Hoped For

Churchill spoke of a settlement with Soviet Russia, an encouraging note in view of former declarations in which he indicated that a meeting of minds from inside and outside the "Iron Curtain" was no longer possible.

But the vigorous old dynamo of Britain's war effort insisted that this must be a "resolute" settlement. And he characterized America's stockpile of atomic bombs as the deterrent—"The sole decisive deterrent which exists or can be brought to bear in the near future."

His only object to the labor government's foreign policy—and obviously that of the United States as well—was in regard to what he called a tendency to "drift."

This, Churchill warned, was the most dangerous thing imaginable, and the one factor that could bring about the horrors of an atomic war whose outcome he himself has described as the inescapable destruction of civilization as it now exists.

Last Needed Assurance

The conservative leader's speech gave the last needed assurance to determination of the United Nations to wipe out the Communists in Korea before their invasion of the South acutally has the effect of touching off another global war.

He spoke to the house at a moment when war news from the Korean front continued generally unfavorable, although it was apparent that American-backed United Nations strength was building up.

Experienced correspondents and commentators, well-versed in the difficulties or modern war with all its problems of supplies and logistics, agreed that within a short space of time the present situation will be altered for the better.

Flow of Reinforcements

There is a constant flow of reinforcements—infantry, artillery, Marine Corps and air—into the battle areas.

There is well under way the hard and tedious work of the signal corps to create and expand lines of communications which were lacking entirely when the Communists struck eleven days ago.

And there soon will be coming in from various sectors of the Pacific naval and air support pledged by various United Nations member countries which should play a real part in stemming the tide of Red onslaught which began and has continued with such ferocity.

The House of Commons debate in which Churchill spoke has had the effect of confirming again the solidarity of the United Nations.

It is clear that the present military measures in South Korea will decide its continued existence once and for all.

A Bi-Partisan British Parliament standing firmly behind it in all its decisions cannot possibly be anything but an encouraging sign for its preservations as an effective agency of world peace.

Autos, Not Fireworks, Now

The fact that it was not until well into the next day after the Fourth of July that the first death from fireworks was reported is in significant contrast to the unprecedented total of almost 800 holiday fatalities, most of them in traffic.

Only a few years ago fireworks were a major cause of Fourth of July deaths. The Inquirer led the fight in Pennsylvania to end this annual horror and eventually won out. But the terrible list of dead, blind and crippled from traffic accidents is just as needless as was the earlier scourge . And instead of rolling it back we are losing ground.

This year's death toll was the largest ever recorded, and the prediction of the National Safety Council that 385 persons might die in traffic was left for behind. The holiday period was a shameful, a disgraceful carnival of death.

It took the drastic action of banning fireworks to stop the frightful damage they were causing. The automobile, of course, can't be banned. But the drivers—an irresponsible, accident-prone 20 per cent who bring about almost all of the crippling injuries and fatalities—can be.

They should be taken from behind the wheel the instant they are caught endangering the lives of others, punished accordingly, and then re-educated to safe driving habits and principles. If this isn't enough to change their ways they should be barred permanently from driving and their licenses revoked.

Many innocent persons have died over the weekend because of the wild driving of this group. Others who got through the traffic jam unscathed are fortunate to have escaped. It is time to put an end to such conditions.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

WHY X-RAYS ARE NUMBERED

As in the dentist's chair I sat.
Some little films I chanced to see
And asked: "Whose set of teeth is that?
Their owner could you name to me?"
The dentist said: "The number will."
And then proceeded with his drill.

"Now just a minute," I replied.
"Those films are photographs of teeth.
Though different they appear outside,
They're all so much alike beneath
That you require a code by which
To tell the humble from the rich?"

"Yes! Heart and lungs and teeth," said he.
"We're much alike from head to toe.
The outward differences we see
The X-rays taken never show
But all the troubles that we find
Are similar in pain and kind.

"The rich, the poor, the weak, the bold,
The fair, the plain, the fat or thin
This fact the rays we take unfold
Are brothers underneath the skin.
So much alike of flesh and bone
They must be numbered to be known."

In Dark On Major Decisions

WASHINGTON, July 7.—The extent to which we are all in the dark on so many of the major decisions that directly determine our destiny is well illustrated in the dispute over the nomination of Sumner Pike to a new term on the Atomic Energy Commission. On the surface it looks like just another shabby election year squabble.

Iowa's Senator Bourke B. Hickenlooper lined up Senate members of the Joint Atomic Energy Committee to produce an adverse vote of 5 to 4 against Pike. The vote on the Senate floor is also expected to be against Pike since Hickenlooper is reported to have had success in rounding up southern Democrats to vote with the Republicans.

Except in the most general terms, Hickenlooper has not said why he opposes Pike's reappointment. It was Hickenlooper who brought the charges of "incredible mismanagement" against former Commission Chairman David Lilienthal.

Charges Never Proved

Those charges were never proved. What was generally considered a time-wasting fiasco brought Hickenlooper a lot of criticism in his own state. The best guess is that by blocking Pike he will show the folks back home that he did, after all, accomplish something.

On the Meet the Press radio program, Hickenlooper, after much prodding, indicated one reason for his opposition to Pike was because Pike had been against proceeding with the steps necessary to make the hydrogen bomb. Reached at his summer home in Maine, Pike denied that he had opposed President Truman's H-bomb decision.

But there are other aspects of this whole business that strike much deeper. A year ago Pike made a speech at his college, Bowdoin, in Maine. In that speech Pike touched briefly on what is the heart of the relationship between the commission and the Congress—that is to say, the relationship between the atomic giant and the people.

He said the Joint Senate-House Committee did not know either the production rate or the number of the bombs in the atomic stockpile. Then Pike added:

"The recent charges against the commission's chairman, and the hearings which followed, based as they have been on comparatively peripheral and insignificant items in the program, seem to me to have had their source in a basic inability to make a sound appraisal of the relative importance of the various elements which constitute the commission's task."

Committee Does Not Know

The fact is that the committee still does not know either the rate of productoin or the bombs in the stockpile. Whenever the subject has come up in a committee meeting, a majority have indicated that they did not want to know.

As Pike suggested in his talk at Bowdoin, this implies a basic distrust of their own capacity, either to keep the secret or to know what to do about the information if they had it. I might add that, it seems to me to indicate a basic distrust of the processes of representative government in the face of a power so overwhelming as atomic energy.

The President knows the number of bombs in the stockpile. So do the commission members. So do th joint chiefs of staff. Chairman Brien McMahon of the Senate-House committee personally knows.

Make Figure Public?

In February of 1949, in a talk in Detroit, McMahon said that perhaps the time had come to consider whether or not the figure should be made public . First, it would put Russia on notice as to how very far advanced this country was, and, second, it would reassure Americans on the progress being made by the commission. President Truman curtly refused to consider the possibiltiy of publicity.

Pike in his Bowdoin address also talked about the "clumsy handicaps" imposed on the development of atomic power for peacetime purposes. Since his resignation, Lilienthal wrote an article for Colliers' warning that present secrecy regulations were throttling experimental development of atomic power.

Another Element

There is another element in the Pike blockade. Colorado's two senators, Eugene Millikin, a Republican, and Edwin Johnson, a Democrat, both voted against Pike. They are said to be influenced by the dissatisfaction of uranium miners in Colorado with the commission's policies. Johnson's chief function in the Senate has always been to do the work of the mining and other interests back home. And he does it with the amiable shrewdness of a ward politician.

Bernard M. Baruch, in his memorable declaration to the United Nations spoke of the issue of atomic energy as being for all of us a choice between the quick and the dead. That this should be decided on the level of word politics, with the responsible committee unwilling to examine the basic facts, is a sad commentary on the times.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

KEEP HARD-TO-CHEW FOODS AWAY FROM YOUNG CHILDREN

"KEEP hard-to-chew peanuts, seeds, and raw foods away from children under five." So warns Dr. George J. Baylin, associate professor of radiology at Duke University.

He explains that youngsters from one through five or older haven't yet learned how to chew hard foods and can easily suck them into the lungs or bronchial tubes through the windpipe. Worst of all, he reports, parents are themselves to blame in most instances. In the study of 160 cases, the youngsters did not pick up the dangerous food but parents gave it to them.

So reported Dr. Baylin before the North Carolina Medical Sohim top honors for the best research paper of this year.

Objects Swallowed

Peanuts were the most common objects swallowed—40 per cent of all the cases. Next in order of frequency were watermelon seeds, corn and popcorn, pecans, and raw foods (potatoes, corn, turnip and apples). Next in importance were cooked foods, bones, wood, cockleburs, pieces of rubber, orange seeds, and metallic objects.

But nuts and hard vegetables are by far the most dangerous, according to Dr. Baylin, because they break into small pieces once they are pushed into the lungs.

Such complications as pneumonia, lung collapse, or serious changes in the development of the chest may result from these accidents. Besides, death may come from blockage of the bronchial tubes or from secondary infection.

Prevent Accidents

Dr. Baylin points out that parents and doctors have long supposed that very little could be done to prevent such accidents since they thought children nearly always picked up the offending objects themselves. But the Duke doctor discovered that parents or baby-sitters are usally the real offenders, offering the youngster

Come now folks . . . let's not go wild . . . buying that is . . . buy your needs but don't buy large stocks and lay them away . . . and we are talking to those food buyers who think that it's wise and smart to buy coffee, sugar, etc., in large quantities . . . Just in case there is a shortage.

The situation in Korea is grave . . . there is much talk about what was proper . . . The President's advised decision or should he have been advised to some other action. Time and time only will tell. But this is the United States . . . our men are doing a job and we must back 'em up . . . and hoarding food is definitely not backing 'em up.

The United Nations is an organization that has done a lot of talking . . . it came to a point as in all organizations for the showdown . . . either put-up or shut-up . . . The organization that shuts-up will very soon close-up. But action from the put-ups while it might not always seem right to all concerned at the beginning . . . if done in a righteous way will bring peaceful satisfaction to those concerned.

But we didn't intend to discuss the U. We all have a definite job to do right now . . . and that is, keep the United States the nation that it was intended to be . . . Made up of individuals who live the freedoms that we all enjoy . . . those who have gone before us and those who will be taken this time should make us all stop and think . . . and we do mean think . . . and those who go out and buy greedily can only be considered unfair to the American way of living. Let's take stock of ourselves by referring to the sermon on the mount.

Needed-One Korean Hero

(By HOLMES ALEXANDER)

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 7.—After V-K Day (victory in Korea), then what? The State Department is earnestly searching for a quick and popular answer. It has to be quick because the delay has already worsened our military operations. Korean non-Communists, like Chinese non-Communists before them, have not put up a fight. The reason is fairly clear. They don't know what they're fighting for. After V-K Day, what?

The State Department's answer has to be popular because this Department, unkind as it is to say so, has lost face in Washington. The presidency as an institution never stood higher in the esteem of Capitol Hill and of the country. President Truman, acting as fearlessly as Harry Hotspur, has raised his prestige as Commander in Chief to the zenith. Defense Secretary Johnson has shaken off the nibbling of amateur strategists who once yapped at his heels. Only Secretary Acheson has not been uplifted in the time of crisis. Despite all soothing denials to the contrary, Acheson's Asian policies were "reversed," and he badly needs to come up with a redeeming play.

More Than Personal Necessity

This, of course, is more than a personal necessity on Acheson's part. It is a national, even global, necessity to lay out a plan for Korean peace while we are engaged in winning the Korean war. This was well recognized in World War II when Roosevelt and Churchill met at sea to draft the Atlantic Charter. Statements of postwar aims kept the Fighting French in existence when their country was entirely overrun. Lack of such statements had the less fortunate effect of making Germany resist, even when it was hopeless, rather than accept the meaningless terms of unconditional surrender. Somewhere between these two extremes the State Department must find a postwar policy to fit Korea, which is half friendly like France, half enemy like Germany.

As a beginning, it seems likely that the State Department will have to erase the troublesome dividing line between North and South Korea. This line at the 38th parallel of north latitude, it should be remembered, never had any official sanction by the United Nations. On December 12, 1948, the UN Assembly voted 48 to 6 that the South Korean Republic was the "lawful government" of Korea and the "only" such government. We may expect the State Department to clarify this point and to go a step beyond it. The number one war aim of Fighting Korea must be a United Korea. The only condition in the surrender of Northern Korea must not be restoration of an artificial boundary line. It must be the erasure of the boundary line and the formation of an all-Korean government.

Now Needs A Symbol

To achieve this settlement—or to promise it—the State Department now needs a symbol. Historically, there is plenty of recent precedent for symbol-seeking in affairs of this kind. One example is Hirohito, the Japanese Emperor. Another is King Paul of Greece. In both cases the unsophisticated people of a disordered land were given an image to worship—an image of nationalism. The Emperor made it far easier for the U.S. to rule an enemy Japan. The King made it far easier for us to stabilize a friendly Greece which was locked in civil war.

But where is the State Department going to dig up the Korean equivalent of a monarch? At present Acheson still leans on President Syngman Rhee, a very shaky reed as events have shown. No less a State Department adviser than Dr. Owen Lattimore has recently repeated his belief that Rhee is a "little Chiang Kai-Shek" and that we can't win with him any more than we were able to win with the Generalissimo himself.

Need Plausible Korean Hero

What's needed is the emergence of a plausible Korean hero, some patriot with the stomach to fight and the personality to rally the Korean nationalists to at least a token fury against the Red traitors of the North. The State Department would embrace such a man with instant gratitude. And if he doesn't soon appear, something else may have to be done. To paraphrase Voltaire, if a genuine Korean hero doesn't exist, it will be necessary to create him. That's what propaganda is for.

Meanwhile, Senator Taft's demand that Acheson resign will remain in suspense. The Secretary is performing one of his trapeze feats, hanging on to his job by his teeth—but still hanging on. It seems all wrong for anybody to wish him to fall at this particular crisis. It is much more important for Acheson to succeed in finding some answers than to be succeeded by Averell Harriman, as Senator Taft seems to desire. The real meaning of Acheson's reversal is that Mr. Truman has become his own Secretary of State. And if Acheson falls off the trapeze, it's Mr. Truman who's going to be hurt.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

According to page one of my newspaper, "Ezio Pinza went to work for a six-figure salary today at the same movie studio that turned him down in 1944 because they didn't think he was romantic enough."

And on top of that "six-figure salary", his work, to quote him, will be "just one, beeg love scene with Lana Turner."

Nice work if you can get it, and, undoubtedly, thousands will envy Ezio Pinza for having climbed to the top of the success ladder.

Success is nice, of course.

That's what most of us are after in this life but only a miscroscopical percentage ever achieve it.

One of these days I am going to have a talk with Ezio Pinza.

I am going to ask him about all the years from the time he started trying for success until the days of "South Pacific" when, almost over night, he became a matinee idol and a dream boy.

I wonder, when he sang that beautiful "Some Enchanted Evening", whether that "stranger" he met "across the crowded room", wasn't the very Success for which he had been striving.

And I wonder also whether those words 'once you have found her, never let her go" might not also apply to that fickle dame SUCCESS so terribly difficult to achieve, so awfully easy to lose.

Ask any successful man, any successful woman about success.

Ask them whether the holding on to it is not almost as hard as the getting there.

Ask them whether, if they had to do it all over again, they would work so hard suffer so much, have so many disappointments, give so much of themselves just for that fleeting moment—and even ten years are a fleeting moment—of fortune and fame.

I'll tell you what makes me so interested in success today.

Yesterday our local electrician was at the house fixing a short circuit.

I was out on the porch and he joined me for a little chat.

He told me how he had worked for a large company and made much more money than he is making now.

But he didn't like it. Time clocks. Bosses, Union trouble. Fixed hours.

"Now I'm in business for myself," he said, "and I'm independent."

He looked out on the little river that flows by my house.

"I like fishing," he said as he pointed to it. "Now that I'm in business for myself I know that I can go fishing any time I want to.

"But the funniest thing is that when I worked for others I did want to go fishing all the time.

"Now that I know I can, I never have the itch during working hours.

"I guess it's just the knowing that you can't do a thing that makes you want to do it so badly."

Pinza, Lana Turner, my electrician you, I—who is really successful? What is the measure of success?

Being able to do what you want to do?

What do YOU think?

Ex-Husband Of Bette Davis Plans Marriage

HOLLYWOOD, July 7.—(INS)—William Grant Sherry, who kicked up such a fuss when actress Bette Davis left him, was deep in plans for a new marriage today.

The fiery-tempered artist, divorced by the film star in Mexico last Monday, said he was going to be married next month to the nurse who has been taking care of his three-year-old daughter, Barbara, for the past year.

The bride-to-be is Marion Richards. Sherry described her as "beautiful and calm and spiritual".

He added:

"After all the recent divorce unpleasantness was over, I suddenly realized that here is a girl who could make my life happy. Marion wants the really worthwhile things in life. She has no complexes."

Sherry said that the ceremony would be at the chapel of St. Francis by the sea at Laguna Beach and would be followed by a honeymoon at Carmel.

THE PARENT PROBLEM

peanuts or a piece of apple as a "reward" for good behavior.

Though children five and under can swallow most soft food without trouble, they still don't have a full set of permanent teeth. When they try to chew hard foods, there is always danger, especially since they may bring on disaster by talking, laughing, or crying while eating.

The usual symptoms, as noted by Dr. Baylin, are immediate choking and a blue skin; after which the child seems to improve. But a few days or weeks later, a siege of coughing and wheezing, sometimes fever, may begin. Although the youngster may cough up the offending object, coughing may drive it deeper into the bronchial tube or lung.

Nearest Hospital

The sensible thing, of course, is to rush the child to the nearest hospital, where a doctor can remove most of such mis-swallowed objects with broncho-scope, a long tube which plucks out the material. The average time for hospitalization is about eight days, though Dr. Baylin reports one case requiring treatment for four months.

"This is one of the most needless of all household accidents," Dr. Baylin says, "and so dangerous that parents should make every effort to prevent children from putting such things into their mouths and, above all, avoid giving them foods which do not belong in their diet anyway."

Tornado Threat Engulfs State During Summer

By AL SPIVAK
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

HARRISBURG, July 7—The nation's tornado belt is as far removed from Pennsylvania as Kansas City—but try and tell a tornado that.

In other words, says Pennsylvania Sectional U. S. Weather Bureau Chief L. F. Conover, a tornado threat hangs heavy over the commonwealth during the May-September peak "twister" season.

"Pennsylvanians lose sight of the fact that our area is quite susceptible to tornadoes," he explains, "so susceptible that between 1880 and 1949 there were 93 tornado days recorded in the state with one to several of the storms occuring on each day."

The most severe, Conover recalls, was only six years ago—June 23, 1944.

Forty-four Pennsylvanians were killed as nature's most violent winds swept over the southwestern section of the state causing damage of more than $2,000,000. The death toll was 159 in Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Maryland, with $5,000,000 damage in the three states.

"Our interest in tornadoes is growing in direct proportion to the population," Conover says. "We can expect two or three each year and we can expect them to hit any section of the state."

Urban centers such as Philadelphia and Pittsburgh have recorded the big blows as well as have rural sections and isolated areas.

Sixteen Lives Lost

Sixteen lives were lost when a tornado passed through Wilkes-Barre August 19, 1890, Conover says, and seven died on July 4, 1878, when a twister tore through Rose Grove near Pittsburgh.

"I realize we're digging into the past," Conover says, "but it's simply to prove that we can't be too complacent."

Tornadoes, he points out, occur in association with thunderstorms, primarily those thunderstorms in which hail stones fall to the ground.

They usually appear as funnel-shaped clouds, he says, spinning rapidly and extending earthward from a thundercloud. Nearby, they sound like a roaring mass of airplanes.

Tornado damage generally stems from violent winds blowing objects through the air and from differences in air pressure that can lift automobiles and cause buildings to collapse.

An automobile often can outrun a tornado, Conover says, but a pedestrian should move at right angles to the winds path, and if he cannot escape he should lie flat in the nearest depression of the road, field or street.

In a city or town, Conover advises, a person should seek shelter preferably in a structural steel building—but keeping away from windows.

"Naturally we haven't as much to fear in the way of tornadoes as Kansas, Oklahoma, Missouri, Iowa and Nebraska," Conover says. "But Kansas, with 500 tornado days in 69 years, had the greatest amount in the nation. Pennsylvania, with 93, had far from the least."

Nation's Defenses In Bad Condition Says Sen. Morse

WASHINGTON, July 7.—(INS)—Sen. Morse (R) Ore., declared that the "defenses of this country are in serious condition" and Congress should remain in session throughout the present crisis.

Morse made his statement in a Senate speech shortly after the Senate armed services committee ordered an investigation of the Korean military situation and the progress of arms shipments to western Europe.

Sen. Smith (R) N. J., who launched his own inquiry on the extent of weapons shipment to Atlantic pact countries, declared he was "very glad" the armed services ordered a probe.

Morse told the Senate there was "nothing reassuring" about the amount of munitions being sent Europe. He declared:

"The leaders of the governments of Europe are much concerned about the slow pace in shipments of heavy (war) materials to Europe. Apparently we don't have too much in Asia in view of what is happening there."

Morse said he intended to "insist" that the Senate give top priority to defense measures. He said, "I think the defense of this country are in serious condition. I don't think Congress should adjourn to play politics."

Morse called for a speed-up of civilian defense measures.

The west coast Republican said consideration should be given, also, to "taking the profits out of war."

Residents Back From The South

Mrs. John Zedick and daughter, Miss Clara Zedick, both of 932 Marshall avenue, have returned from an extended vacation spent in the South. The local residents first visited in Greenville, S. C., where the former's son, Rev. Frank Zedick, was graduated from Furam university, receiving his bachelor of arts degree.

Rev. Zedick is pastor of First Baptist church, Charleston, S. C., the local residents enjoying the latter part of their month's vacation in that city. While they were there, a son, Frank Ronald, was born to Rev. and Mrs. Zedick.

Bruce-Merrilees Co. Named Low Bidders

HARRISBURG, July 7.—(INS)—Bruce-Merrilees company of New Castle was named the unofficial low bidder for electrical work on a building for 200 aged women patients at Woodville State hospital. The New Castle firm bid $56,865 for the work, according to the announcement released by the General State Authority at Harrisburg.

Speer Marousis Is Back From Visit To Greece

Speer Marousis, owner of the Regent theatre, is home after a three month visit with relatives in Greece. While considerable of his time was spent visiting his mother in Argus and his sister in Athens, Mr. Marousis toured the entire country.

"Greece is coming back," said he. "The people are determined to recover from their tragic war experiences and to the aid they are getting from America they have added a will to work. As a result foodstuffs are now fairly easy, the communist guerrillas have been defeated and building is progressing save where steel is needed.

Packages Aid

"I found the Grecian people most appreciative of the packages sent over from the United States. The Marshall plan aid is helping farmers to stock their farms and get equipment but the packages sent from American friends and relatives is something they can see immediately and the packages have been a wonderful help.

"While I was there the weather was ideal. The olive groves are prospering although the crop this year will be somewhat under that of 1949.

"I believe communism in Greece has been beaten down. The Grecian people have had an admiration for the United States for many years and the idea of communism was repellant to them save for a few guerrillas. The one thing that embittered the Grecian people against communism was the kidnaping of 28,000 small boys by the guerrillas. The boys have been sent to Siberia and are being educated in communism."

Mr. Marousis flew both ways. On his trip the plane touched down at Gander, Newfoundland; Shannon, Ireland; Paris, France! Zurich, Switzerland, and Rome, Italy.

Capone Syndicate Is Still Powerful Says Crime Expert

WASHINGTON, July 7.—(INS)—Virgil W. Peterson of the Chicago Crime Commission declared that the old Al Capone Syndicate still wields "tremendous influence" today and has an alliance with the "Frank Costello gang in New York."

Peterson traced for the Senate Crime Committee the growth, history and membership of the syndicate's heyday in the 1920's, which culminated in the conviction of Capone for income tax evasion. He added:

"Many of the most important criminal gangs stem from the major gangs operating in Chicago and New York 30 years ago.

"The Capone Syndicate's tremendous influence is still wielded throughout the nation today.

"Its operations have been extended to other parts of the United States. It has formed important alliances with underworld individuals in other cities, particularly with the Frank Costello gang in New York."

Boy Scouts Are On Way Home

Jamboree Scouts Conclude Program

VALLEY FORGE, Pa., July 7.—(INS)—Some 47,000 Boy Scouts scattered for their home today after closing ceremonies of the second National Jamboree at Valley Forge.

The scouts, who represented every state in the union and 19 foreign nations, closed their gigantic get-together last night with the scout oath and a chorus of "Auld Lang Syne."

Dr. Arthur a Schuck, chief scout executive, urged the youths to rededicate themselves "to service to your God, your country and humanity."

"Our brother South Korean scouts are now shedding their blood for freedom," he told the huge assemblage.

Russia Outlaws Scouting

"Russia, through its satellite states, controls one-third of the population of the world, and has outlawed scouting in the lands it has conquered," Dr. Schuck added.

"A nation that denies the fatherhood of God and would substitute slavery, war, persecution, hatred and state domination of individual for loyalty to God, peace, brotherhood and freedom is anti-God."

Dr. Schuck told the boys that each one of them "is important."

"You are a crusader," he said, "a crusader for freedom, a crusader for democracy, a crusader to strengthen the arm of liberty."

More than 100 buses and trains will carry the scouts to their homes in what has been described as the greatest concentrated peacetime passenger movement.

Moose Women Plan Tureen Dinner

Senior Regent Mrs. Huldah Doerr presided over the meeting of the Women of the Moose, Wednesday evening at the Moose home. It was announced that a tureen dinner will be held Wednesday evening, July 12, at 6 o'clock, at the Moose home.

Afterward, the Academy of Friendship will hold a short business meeting, with Mrs. Clara Hawk presiding. There will also be a practice for officers, guards and members of the drill team.

A check was sent to Grand Chancellor Katherine Smith in appreciation of her 25 years of service for the "Child City". Mrs. Smith will be presented with love gifts from the various auxiliaries at the Moose convention to be held in Chicago in August.

Members of the auxiliary will assist at the Moose family picnic to be held by the men at El Rio Beach on Sunday July 16.

A gift was given to Mrs. Blanche Dunlap, a recent bride, on behalf of the members of the organization.

The next meeting will be in the form of Officers' Chapter night on July 19, with the officers of the chapter as the hostesses for the evening.

Romanian Protest Is Rejected By U.S.

WASHINGTON, July 7.—(INS)—The United States on Thursday firmly rejected Romania's protest against the imposition of travel restrictions on personnel of Romanian legation in Washington.

The state department, in a note delivered to the Romanian legation on July 3, made ti clear that such restrictions will continue as long as Romania limit the travel of American diplomats in Bucharest.

The American note emphasized that the 35-mile restriction placed on Romanian personnel in Washington is purely a "reciprocal limitation of diplomatic privilege" based upon Romania's treatment of U. S. diplomats in that country.

Justice Dept. Rules Employes Eligible For Notaries Public

HARRISBURG, July 7—(INS)—The State Justice Department today ruled Federal employes eligible for appointment as notaries public provided that duties of the two posts do not conflict.

"When a determination is made that by reason of his duties as a federal officer, an applicant cannot perform the duties of a notary public, the application should be denied," Deputy Attorney General Harrington Adams advised N. L. Wymard, secretary to Gov. James H. Duff.

Councilmen In Pittsburgh Keep Silence

PITTSBURGH, July 7.—(INS)—Pittsburgh city councilmen had little or no comment today on the state's intervention in the city's "free work" probe.

Councilman Frederic Weir said: "It's a matter between the District Attorney and the State Attorney General. No matter what develops, I have great faith in the integrity and ability of District attorney William S. Rahauser."

Council president Thomas E. Kilgallen, one of those under fire in the probe, said: "No comment."

"Have No Comment"

Councilman William Alvah Stewart, Mayor David L. Lawrence's chief lieutenant in council, declared: "I will have no comment."

Councilman Patrick T. Fagan said: "I have no comment. It is a prerogative of the governor and has its okay with me."

Councilman Walter R. Demmler commented: "Things speak for themselves."

Councilman Edward J. Leonard who did not agree with the majority report of council in the work probe, declared: "No comment at this time. I didn't sign council's report on their investigation and anything I might say might be misinterpreted."

Councilmen John T. Duff Jr., and Thomas Gallagher were out of town. Councilman A. L. Wolk couldn't be reached for comment.

No Youth Meeting At Portersville On Saturday Night

Instead of the regular meeting of the Portersville Youth for Christ Saturday, July 8, there will be an exhibit representing the youth work in the parade in Butler, when Butler County's Sesqui-Centennial is being celebrated. Several members from the Youth for Christ service will be taking part in the sxhibit.

The Portersville Youth for Christ will be holding a special anniversary program Saturday evening, July 15, at 8 o'clock in the Portersville U. P. church, with Walter Bauder in charge of the meeting. Special speaker for this meeting will be Rev. Lacy Hall, who is leaving soon to take up full time work for Youth for Christ, International, in Orlando, Fla. Mrs. Hall will also be with him. Special music will be provided to celebrate the anniversary.

Cult Members Are Sentenced

NELSON, B. C., July 7.—(INS)—Spokesmen for the 195 members of the Doukhobor "Sons of Freedom" sect said today that the sentences totaling 793 years will not end their civil disobedience campaign.

Sentencing of the cult members followed trials lasting more than a month. The trials stemmed from demonstrations by the members during which they set fire to their homes and other buildings and publicly removed their clothes in protest against government restrictions.

John Sherstibitoff, sentenced to 14 years for arson and riotous assembly, compared himself and his comrades to such religious leaders as John Knox, John Wesley and Mohandas K. Gandhi.

He told Justice J. M. Coady: "It is useless to punish us, for our crimes are not against the spirit of Christ."

BUSINESS INDEX HIGH

PITTSBURGH, July 7.—(INS)—Business in the Pittsburgh district last week hit the highest level since January 1949.

The University of Pittsburgh Bureau of Business Research index stood at 197.8 percent of the 1935-39 average, compared with 194.4 the week before.

The increase last week was accounted for entirely by a sharp rise in the volume of trade.

Some 50 million dimes were put into steel lockers in rail, bus and air terminals last year.

Harbor Playground Holds Bum's Event

You may say that a bum's a bum, but the bums at Harbor playground were quite streamlined. It was not unusual to see a bum riding to the hobo show on his bicycle. Other new features of the bums' outfits included glasses, straw hats and even brown and white shoes.

As usual, the judges had a difficult time deciding the "winners". Judges for the occasion were Mrs. Eliazbeth Jones, Susie White and Mrs. Virginia McCummins.

First prize for the most original bum's outfit went to Keith Arrow. It was a toss-up between he and his brother, Floyd, but it was decided that the unusual rips and rare patches of Keith's outfit made him the leading hobo of Harbor playground. Keith received a pocket watch, a donation of a local merchant.

Prizes Given

A sport shirt, as second prize, also a donation, went to Blaine Keagrise for his typical bum's outfit. Honorable mention was awarded to James Haydon, Butch Cutcholl and James McCummins.

An extra feature of the afternoon was the bubble gum contest, a popular event at the grounds. First prize was given to Susie White, who really deserves to be the unanimous winner. Second prize went to James Heydon, who put up a good fight, because he tried hard to be the winner, even using gum smudged with soot from his bum's costume.

Honorable mention went to Butch Spaniel, who blew the biggest bubble after the contest was over.

Next week there will be an "on wheels" contest. Children have already formulated plans for the Wednesday afternoon program, which begins at 2:30 o'clock.

Brownie Girl Scouts Enjoy Camp Events

Brownie Girl Scouts celebrated Independence Day at the New Castle Girl Scout camp in a typically Girl Scout manner. The camp is located along the Slippery Rock, near Kennedy's Mills.

Colorful and appropriate table decorations, made by the girls, appeared in the dining hall. Formal color presentation was observed, with everyone collaborating to appear in red, white, and blue costume.

During evening campfire each unit presented a skit with a patriotic theme—"How Sousa Came To Write 'Stars and Stripes Forever' ", the "Story of the 'Star Spangled Banner', and a dramatization of the Statue of Liberty, guiding ships safely to our harbor.

At bedtime, red flares, sparklers and night fireworks were lighted on the green in view of all the cabins. Thus everyone shared in this particularly American celebration of July 4th. The girls were reminded that in some countries fireworks usher in Christmas, so before taps sounded, everyone joined in the singing of carols, for Wedensday had been set aside as the camp's traditional midyear Christmas.

Emphasis was placed upon the fact that Christmas should be in our hearts every day, and that the spirit of sharing and giving far overshadow that of receiving. Stories of Christmas in other lands were read to the campers; and in the evening after the tree had been trimmed, and a hearty dinner had been enjoyed, everyone gathered at the barn for wintertime movies, carols, and various dramatizations with the Christmas theme—"The Nativity", "Scrooge", "Lincoln's Christmas Story", and "The Red Nosed Reindeer".

As a fitting climax to the evening's entertainment, St. Nicholas arrived with white beard, red suit, sleighbells, and a pack loaded with goodies for the good little scouts.

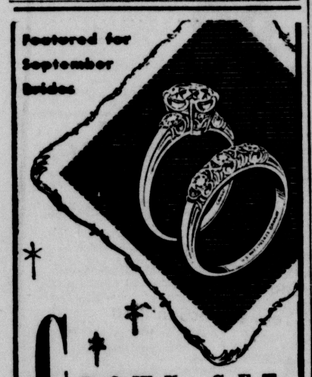

The Girl Scout camp calendar is nearing its close with each day filled by the campers' planning.

Charges Government For His Collection Of Withholding Tax

CHIPPEWA FALLS, Wis., July 7.—(INS)—A 65-year-old Chippewa Falls attorney deducted the withholding tax from his law clerk's pay check today—and then charged the federal government his regular collection fee for the work.

Ronald North announced his one-man rebellion yesterday and cited the 13th amendment to back up his claim that it is "un-American" for the government to force him to collect money for it free of charge.

He wrote the collector of internal revenue at Milwaukee:

"During the war I made the deductions without charge as a patriotic duty. Now I'm not going to any longer. It's a matter of principles.

"The whole question is whether the government can compel a person to work for it free of charge—or at all. The 13th amendment prohibits slavery or involuntary servitude. Let the government test my stand."

Bums Parade At Pollock Grounds

Bums of all sizes, shapes and colors made their appearance at the Pollock playground on a recent afternoon.

A bright banner and boys on bicycles announced the coming of the bums as they paraded about the streets near the Pollock school. Mrs. Rose George, Mrs. Adeline Medure and Mrs. Yacabone judged the queer assortment of contestants as they gathered for the event.

Jack DeMarco, in his sack outfit, won first prize, with the second prize awarded to Mike DeMarco for his unusual outfit and charcoal-colored face. Bernie Pasarette, the smallest bum, was given third prize. Mrs. Nellie Mazzei donated the awards for the special event.

Sweaters were also presented to the Junior Softball league members by William DeCarbo and Tony Navarra.

Wednesday, July 12, at 1:30 o'clock a doll contest will be the special feature at the playground.

Small American Group Escapes Red Encirclement

TOKYO, July 7.—(INS) Gen. Douglas MacArthur said today that a small isolated American group which escaped North Korean encirclement yesterday in the Osan area was hit by "the best Red division supported by 40 tanks".

In the first communique version issued concerning the American retreat MacArthur also said that the North Korean enemy was led by an "extremely skillful and resourceful Red commander".

At U. S. Army headquarters in Korea, meanwhile, a general acting as spokesman said that the unit which was cut off temporarily suffered "ten per cent casualties".

Greatly Exaggerated

He said he wanted to ease American minds, particularly those of families of the men involved, who might have heard "hearsay reports that greatly exaggerated the number of killed and wounded" in the engagement.

He said the battalion was put in the advance spot in the path of the Communist advance "to let the enemy know we are here and to put up a good fight if necessary.

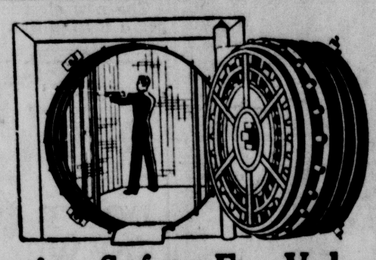

"The battalion," he said, "did put up a good fight and it got away".

State Capitol

Huge Sum For State Highways

$110,400,000 Being Spent During Year

HARRISBURG, July 6.—(INS)—The State Highways Department expects to spend approximately $110,400,000 during 1950 for improving Pennsylvania's vast highway network . . . Each of the commonwealth's 67 counties will benefit in some way from the vast program . . . Good weather has allowed the program to hit high gear . . . During the working season, the program calls for the use of an estimated 1,305,634 tons of bituminous concrete, 3,113,066 barrels of cement, 38,291 tons of reinforcing and structural steel, 8,600,488 tons of aggregate and 37,565,873 gallons of bituminous material . . . Unestimated is the number of cubic tons of earth which will be excavated and used as fill . . . This year's expenditures compare with $98,400,000 last year, $103,300,000 in 1948 and $67,900,000 in 1947 according to the department . . . The department's estimates are exclusive of those compiled by the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission on the east and west extensions of the super-highway.

The Veterans Compensation Bureau has received many documents of official nature and papers of not-so-official standing to prove the eligibility applicants for the World War II bonus payments but not hardly so convincing as that received from a Wynnewood ex-serviceman . . . He attached a $1,000 war bond to his application . . . The purpose was to show that he was a resident of Pennsylvania when inducted into service and thus entitled to the bonus even though he resided outside the commonwealth much of the time . . . The date stamped on the war bond by the issuing bank was accepted by the bureau as proof that the applicant was in Pennsylvania substantially at the time when inducted . . . The veteran explained that he was the son of an air force officer and was on the move most of the time prior to induction.

The bitter primary fight in Luzerne county has left political raw spots that may not heal in time for the general election, according to reports reaching the state capitol . . . The primary campaign split between the victorious Duff-Fine forces and those which followed the Kunkel-Cooke slate appears to have widened . . . ex-Superior Court Judge John S. Fine, of Nanticoke, has been the GOP leader of Luzerne for more than 23 years . . . Recently, Wilkes-Barre Councilman J. Bowden Northrup, a Fine lieutenant, was stripped of his power as director of parks and public properties . . . The action cost the jobs of the chief clerk, the park superintendent and about 10 maintenance men . . . It is understood all supported the Duff-Fine ticket in defiance of orders from the majority councilmen and Mayor Luther Kniffen . . . Those ousted from their jobs are to be taken care of in departments under control of leaders sympathetic to the Duff-Fine cause . . . School board Solicitor Arthur Loveland, a former mayor, resigned his post when he realized he was about to be fired for supporting the Duff-Fine ticket.

The State Department of Public Assistance has completed an analysis of 1949 expenditures necessary to keep the vast relief program going throughout the state . . . The DPA said $145,637,000 was spent during the calendar year and that the federal government's contributions to the program amounted to about one-third of the total . . . Relief grants accounted for $133,556,300, salaries and other administrative expenses absorbed $10,427,100 while $947,400 went for defraying expenses performed for the DPA by other state agencies and $706,200 was used to underwrite costs of the Claim Settlement Division . . . The division was responsible during the year for returning $3,096,000 to the DPA in the form of restitution and restitution.

Informal Embargo On Oil Shipments To Far East Reds

WASHINGTON, July 7.—(INS)—The United States today placed an informal but effective embargo on all oil shipments that might reach Chinese or Korean Communists.

The action was taken jointly by the State and Commerce Departments. It took the form of a request to American oil shippers not to send any petroleum to any Asia port that might send or transship the oil to the Reds.

Ports included in the embargo are all those in North Korea and Communist held China, as well as the British crown colony of Hong Kong and the Portuguese possession of Macao, near Hong Kong.

Similar action already has been taken on other actual and potential war materiel such as weapons, scrap iron and vehicles.

Although the request to the oil companies, and the earlier requests to shippers of other materials, were made informally, they have the effect of an order.

A State Department spokesman pointed out that the Commerce Department grants export licenses for such materials, and that a simple refusal of a license could put an exporter out of business.

Oakland Sportsmen's Auxiliary Meets

Ladies Auxiliary of the Oakland Sportsmen met at the home of Mrs. Michael Peplowski, Elmwood street, on July 5.

A business meeting was conducted by the president. Mrs. Frank Jaworski, and preparation for a wiener roast was made for July 15 for the families of the auxiliary. Games provided the pastime with first prize being awarded to Mrs. John Cole and the consolation prize to Mrs. Andrew Nevotne. Mrs. Joseph Waskins, who recently returned from California, added enjoyment to the evening when she told of her visti to the cinema world and the various scenic views of California. Mrs. Floren Szewczyk told of her visit to the eastern coast in New Jersey and of visitations made to famous fish hatcheries.

In conclusion, lunch was served by Mrs. Michael Peplowski, assisted by Mrs. Andrew Nevotne. The auxiliary will meet next on August 2 at the home of Mrs. Walter Smialowski, 820 Junior High street.

Sampson Alliance To Unveil Mural

Remodeling of the Sampson Street Christian and Missionary Alliance church is well under way, it has been announced by the pastor, Rev. Edward R. Truran, who has been in charge of the work.

Artist A. Fullerton has been busy the past few days painting a beautiful mural depicting a Biblical scene at the front of the church and this creation will be unveiled at a special ceremony Sunday evening. A special musical program will precede the unveiling on Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

The new electric organ will be heard for the first time, with Mr. Fullerton presenting a half hour program of music on the organ at that time. During the process of painting the picture much favorable comment has been received by the artist and pastor as visitors have watched the work. New pews and a new tile floor have been placed in the church. Other work is being done to beautify the structure.

Rev. F. Schillinger Directs New Camp

Camp sessions get under way today at the new camp, with many outstanding speakers, known here, on the program. Miss Sallie P. Botham, missionary to French West Africa and resident of this city, is the missionary speaker. Rev. Karl Gottschling, son of Mrs. Katherine Herman of Fulton street, this city, is pianist. Other workers include Rev. Gordon Wishart of Toronto, Can., and Rev. James Harper, music director.

The camp closes Sunday, July 16, with a baptismal service on July 15.

Soviet Rejects U.N. Appeal

Refuses Call For S. Korea Assistance

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., July 7.—Russia formally rejected the United Nations call for assistance to South Korea Thursday by again branding the U. N. security council's sanctions resolution invalid.

A cryptic cablegram signed by Soviet deputy foreign minister Andrei Gromyko and sent direct from the Kremlin to U. N. secretary general Trygve Lie rejected the latter's call for aid for southern Korea from all member governments. The message referred Lie to a previous declaration that the security council action "has no legal force".

The Gromyko blast of last Monday against the United States and his demand that the U. N. order the American troops out of South Korea never was received at Lake Success as formal communication. But all replies to the various Russian allegations have been ignored by U. N.

Nations Support U. N.

With 43 nations on record in support of the sanctions resolution, the U. N. got offers of supplementary aid Thursday in the shape of medicine, rubber and merchant shipping from Norway, Nicaraugua and Denmark.

In preparation for today's security council session for appointing Gen. Douglas MacArthur U. N. commander-in-chief, the three western powers met and cleared the way for giving MacArthur a free hand, in the name of the security council.

Crack Down In Free Work Case

State Intervenes In Investigation

HARRISBURG, July 7.—(INS)—The commonwealth cracked down on Democratic-controlled Pittsburgh Thursday and ordered intervention in an investigation of "free work" allegedly performed by municipal employes of Pennsylvania's second largest city

State Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti superseded Allegheny County District Attorney William S. Rahauser in investigating "all matters whatsoever relating to the criminal acts of any and all public officials and public employes within the jurisdiction of Allegheny County."

Notice of the intervention was served on Rahauser by a state trooper. Mayor David L Lawrence, a Democratic national committeeman, is touring Europe

Grand Jury To Meet

The commonwealth's intervention, forerunner of a grand jury slated to meet Monday to consider the alleged irregularities, followed by one day Gov. James H. Duff's appointment of Margiotti as attorney general.

There is a possibility that Margiotti will choose W. Denning Stewart, a prominent Pittsburgh laywer, to direct the investigation as a special deputy attorney general.

Citizens Committee

Stewart was associated with a citizens committee which investigated Pittsburgh's Republican Kline administration more than 16 years ago.

Margiotti said District Attorney William Rahauser was superseded by the action. Rahauser petitioned Judge Michael A. Musmanno, Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor this year, for a grand jury investigation of the alleged irregularities revolving around work done by city employes beyond their official duties on municipal time.

"This supersedure is effective forthwith and I especially direct you to take no further action in the petition presented by you, or any other proceedings resulting therefrom," Margiotti's order stated.

"In my opinion, the petition is unjustifiably limited in scope and that it is clearly defective in that it fails to meet the legal requirements prescribed in the decisions of the supreme court of Pennsylvania."

Blithe Spirit To Be Presented By Theatre Group

Westminster College summer theater group will offer its final production of the current season next week when Noel Coward's "Blithe Spirt" opens Monday for a six day run.

The play is the third production by the theater group this summer. Previous productions were "All My Sons" by Arthur Miller, and Moss Hart's "Light Up the Sky."

The summer productions are being offered this year for the first time in the history of the college. Should the experiment attract sufficient interest the project will be expanded next year, according to Donald L. Barbe, director.

Lead parts in "Blithe Spirit," a three-act farce, will be carried by Bobbie Cloud, Uniontown; Croy Pitzer, New Castle; and Phyllis Williams, Farrell.

Others in the play are Donna Barbe, New Wilmington; Bill Sample, Sharon; Ruth Vogan, Mercer; and Jeanne Lewis, New Castle. The technical staff includes Bill Stedman, Ellwood City; Paul Talley, Oil City; Ted Rupert, Avon Lake, O.; and Bill McAnallen, New Castle.

Bintrim Heads Forty And Eight

At the election meeting held, following a spaghetti dinner at a New Wilmington road dining room, Harvey G. Brintim was elected Chef de Gare, to succeed Don Crowl. The new officers will be installed at the first meeting in October.

Other officers named, were: Chef de Train, Sam Gibson, of Bessemer; Commissar Intendant, Evan Evans; Correspondent, James Pherson; Garde le Porte, Ralph B. Hayes; Conducteur, Homer Sherman; Aumonier, Ivor Lewis.

Following the dinner and business meeting, the hours were spent informally.

SMALL FIRE

City firemen were called to the Wach Block on East Long avenue, at 1:15 a.m. today by a still alarm. According to Fire Chief H. F. Steinbrink, one of the occupants of the building had allowed the water to run over, and it soaked down from the third floor to the first, shortening the electric wiring, which became overheated. There was no fire damage.

Defective wiring is listed as second cause of fire in American homes. Careless smokers are first.

SETS NEW PARACHUTE JUMP RECORD

—Acme Telephoto

FAYETTEVILLE, N. C.—Sgt. J. W. Swetich, left, wearing chute, receives congratulations from smiling helper after he broke the world's record of consecutive parachute jumps in one day. Swetich, jumping at the rate of once every six minutes, broke the record early in the afternoon. He began by moonlight at 2 a. m. and continued for 10 hours or 107 jumps later and finished when he almost broke his leg on the 123rd jump.

Y Camp Rentz Opens Sunday

Expect Busiest Year In History Of Camp

YMCA Camp Fred L. Rentz opens its 1950 camping season Sunday with one of its busiest years in store.

Sunday will mark the beginning of the 29th year of operation for the beautiful camp along the Slippery Rock, beyond Harlansburg.

Five complete weeks of camping are scheuled for youths of the community. Three weeks capacity has already been filled and prospects indicate that a maximum of 72 boys will be on hand for each of the other two weeks. Camp director Dave Gatrall has announced that there are still a few openings but warned boys to register as soon as possible to insure themselves a place.

Policy Bettered

When the camp's founder, Fred L. Rentz, gave the land of the primary buildings, he indicated that at least 20 boys should be sent to camp each year at no expense to the boys. According to YMCA secretary Robert L. Meermans, this policy has always been followed or bettered.

In the year 1950 it will be bettered by 500 per cent. One hundred boys from New Castle and surrounding territory, who would otherwise be denied the privilege of camping, will enjoy at least a week's stay at Camp Rentz.

Chest To Aid

This is made possible by the Community Chest, service clubs and private donors. Earlier in the spring the Community Chest announced that it would sponsor 50 boys and 50 girls at each of the Y camps.

In addition, many service clubs and individual sponsors annually purchase camper memberships for youths who would be financially unable to attend camp. These two sources, the chest and camper memberships, will give 100 boys the chance to attend camp and should fill the camp to near capacity during each of the five weeks of the season.

The old examining station at the Hull Resurfacing Co., 405 Pillow street, will be discontinued.

Tests will be given every Saturday and the first and third Mondays of the month, at the new station.

Hope For Break In Bus Strikes

PITTSBURGH, July 7.—(INS)—State and federal mediators expressed hope today that a break was developing in the drawn-out Pittsburgh bus strikes.

Hints of a possible peace move came yesterday after a conference between federal mediator Charles R. Ward and state conciliator J. Edward Waldron and officials of the Debolt bus line.

The meeting, which produced a wage proposal, was described as encouraging, and mediators immediately scheduled further meeting.

Debolt, one of five district bus lines which ceased operation May 18 when members of the AFL bus drivers union walked out to enforce wage demands, is the only struck line so far to come through with a wage offer.

Another struck line, Oriole, yesterday offered to establish emergency service, but doubt was expressed that the union would agree to this move.

A spokesman for the Harmony Bus Line, which was struck May 2, said yesterday there was "no prospect of an immediate settlement" of the dispute involving that company.

AAA Says Boating Good Diversion

PHILADELPHIA, July 7.—(INS)—Attention motoring vacationists! Break up your journey with a boat trip. To every traveler a voyage on water, no matter how short, is a diverting and refreshing experience.

This is one of many recommendations to vacationists given by the American Automobile Association which stresses a leisurely tempo in travel to insure a pleasant vacation.

"Too many motorists spend their vacations racing down the highways, trying to cover a maximum amount of mileage," the AAA's national touring board declared. "They return home fatigued and sometimes exhausted, needing a rest after their vacations." Other AAA suggestions are:

1. Change sides now and then with your companions in the car—this will reduce eye strain and general body fatigue, especially in children. Provide each member of the party with a good pair of sun glasses.

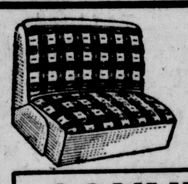

2. Drive in the early part of the day, when traffic is lighter and the weather is cooler. In the afternoon stop early enough to get accommodations, and to spend time visiting points of interest.

3. Carry thermos bottles, in some sections of the country water obtained at overnight stopping places is far better than at stopping places on the road.

4. Drive on the upper half of the gas tank, especially in the west, where gas stations sometimes are few and far between.

FERGUSON-WILLIAMS NUPTIAL REVEALED

Mr. and Mrs. Stuart H. Ferguson of Salem, N. Y., announce the marriage of their daughter, Marian A. to Donald E. Williams, son of Mrs. Shirley H. Williams, Enon Valley, and the late Samuel M. Williams.

The couple was united in marriage at the Hebron U. P. church in West Hebron, N. Y., on June 24 at 3:30 p. m. Rev. A. W. Stewart, uncle of the bride, performed the double ring ceremony, assisted by Rev. John C. Brownlee, pastor of the church.

The bride's gown was created with a bodice of eyelet organdy fashioned with a sweetheart neckline and short sleeves; a fitted waist dropping to a point in front, and a full gathered skirt, both of sheer organdy over taffeta, completed the gown. Her fingertip veil was caught to a coronet of tiny rosebuds, and she carried a bouquet of white roses with sweetheart rosebuds providing a shower effect.

Miss Lois Ferguson of Rochester, N. Y., attended her sister, wearing a similarly styled gown of teal-colored organdy over taffeta. Harmonizing carnations and shasta daisies composed her headband and bouquet.

The groom's brother, Arthur Williams of Enon Valley, was best man. Ushering were Donald S. Ferguson, Salem, brother of the bride, and Ward H. Clegg, a close friend of the groom from Pittsburgh.

Mrs. John C. Brownlee, wife of the pastor sang appropriate nuptial melodies. Miss Lorraine Clough, a close friend of the bride, played a program of wedding selections preceding and during the ceremony.

Immediately after the wedding, a reception was held in the church parlors. Afterward, Mr. and Mrs. Williams departed for a honeymoon to New York state and Canada.

Mrs. Williams is a graduate of Salem Washington Academy and is a senior at Muskingum college. The groom is a graduate of Enon Valley high school and Muskingum college and is a veteran of the Marine Corp. He is attending law school at present.

When they return from their wedding trip, the newlyweds will live on East Main street in New Concord, Ohio.

The prospective bride and groom later presented their attendants with charming gifts of remembrance.

Miss Thompson will become the bride of Ernest A. Carr this evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Third United Presbyterian church. She is the daughter of Mrs. G. L. Thompson, Warren avenue, while Mr. Carr is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse E. Carr of R. D. 3, Volant, Pa.

Former Pastors At Anniversary

Fellowship Dinner Enjoyed On Thursday

Many happy days were relived again at Croton Methodist church on Thursday evening when "old timers night" drew an unusually large crowd of former members of the church to the second service of the centennial celebration.

A fellowship dinner in the church dining room drew a capacity crowd at 6:30 as the period for reminiscing got under way. Dr. J. P. Graham, pastor of Third U. P. church offered the invocation with the church W. S. C. S. under the supervision of Mrs. Howard McQuiston, serving. The scene was a homey one as vases of cut garden flowers, arranged by Mrs. Vane Johns, graced each table.

The dinner guests joined others in the church auditorium as they were interestingly taken back over the years by former pastors and associates of the church. Rev. Owen Shields directed the short devotional service prior to the introduction of the speakers. The choir pleasingly presented two selections, "Praise Ye the Lord" and "More Like Jesus", with Miss Betty Nelson as soprano soloist.

Among Speakers

Representing the New Castle Ministerial Association Dr. J. Paul Graham brought greetings and representing the Methodist Ministers Association, Rev. James A. Gaiser spoke briefly.

Rev. R. W. Skinner, former principal of Croton school from 1895 to 1906, now a minister in the Methodist church, brought greetings to the large assemblage. The principal address was delivered by Rev. Ralph Dunn who served the church for six years. He likened the past 100 years as to an old copy book in which many errors were made on the pages. He challenged the group as they start on their new book to do better and attempt to have a much neater book than in the past.

The celebration continues this evening, with church school and youth night planned. A pageant, "History of the Church School", will be enacted, with the costumes to be worn authentic ones of the 1900 period. Some were worn by the mothers of present members. The cast will include young people and church school board. Former Sunday school superintendents will be guests.

The anniversary will conclude Sunday with three services.

On the first maps of Brazil that country was designated Terra Papagalli—Land of Parrots.

'Tiger Man' Leaves For Coffee Country

NORRISTOWN, Pa. — (INS) — Sasha Seimel, otherwise known as the daredevil of Brazil's deathlurking jungles, has left his Sumneytown, Pa., home for new adventures in the coffee country's state of Matto Grosso where as the "tiger man" he has become legendary.

Undaunted and thirsty for perilous excitement, the bewhiskered Pennsylvania explorer is returning to the land where law is folly because it is determined by wild men and even wilder animals.

It was in these very same jungles that Seimel became known as the tiger man 30 years ago.

Since 1920, Brazilians have whispered spectacular tales of courage which has made Seimel—the tiger man—a legend.

Applesauce made from summer green apples is especially good served with ice cream.

WHEN GIRL ASKS BOY TO PROM

"I am a senior in high school. I have asked a boy I know slightly to take me to our Prom. Must I pay for the tickets, taxicab fare, my flowers and our snack after the dance? Must I also spend the entire evening with him, dancing with him exclusively? If he leaves me to dance with someone else, what should I do? On which shoulder should I wear my corsage? Where should I leave my purse while dancing?

Answer: Since you have invited him to the dance, you must supply and pay for both of the tickets. All other expenses of the evening —taxicab, flowers, refreshments— should be borne by him. And most boys send their "date" a corsage. It is not compulsory but usual.

It is always a good idea to invite a boy whom you know fairly well or one who had previously asked you for dates.

You may dance with other boys who ask you, provided you have consulted your escort so that he might make plans of his own for the period during your absence. Likewise, if he plans to dance with others, he should see that you are "booked up" also and not left stranded.

Usually there is a "swap" partners" arrangement at dances which certainly makes for more gaiety and a greater opportunity for "getting acquainted".

You may wear your corsage on either shoulder. Carry a tiny evening bag and keep it hanging on your arm or in your hand while dancing. If you prefer, keep it with your wrap in the cloak room, provided it contains no valuables.

Question: My father insists that it is not necessary for him to stand in the receiving line at my wedding reception. My mother and I think he should. Who is correct?

Answer: Your father is quite correct in that it is not necessary for him to stand in line if he does not wish to do so but would prefer to circulate about the room entertaining the guests.

Present your problems to Miss Markel who will promptly send personal replies to questions from readers inclosing stamped, addressed envelopes.

Scout Staff Now Complete

Cooks, Aides Named For Camping Season

All campers attending Lawrence county Boy Scout camp this year are looking forward to good eats.

Mrs. Pearl Mills, Sigma Nu fraternity cook at Westminster college, is back again this summer. Helping her the first period will be Mrs. L. Weaver of Ellwood City, and the second and third period Mrs. Mills will be assisted by Mrs. Charles Follette of Ellwood City.

Also, there will be cook-outs by the campers. Judging from the recent camporees in all three districts, the scouts are pretty good chefs themselves.

Assisting in the dining hall and kitchen will be scouts Kenneth Wimer, Bill Patterson and Harvey St. John. Harvey will also serve as camp bugler. All three are first class scouts and members of troop 52, Castlewood.

Trading Post

The trading post is always the center of activity for ice cream, campcraft items and the place to check out athletic equipment. Star scout Lester Hausschild of troop 5, New Castle, will be in charge this year. Assisting him is Gerald Perdue, troop 52, Castlewood.

Star scout Donald Pearce of troop 45, Harlansburg, will serve as temporary junior assistant scoutmaster in camp; Don will direct work on merit badges such as pioneering, camping, cooking and others that require rope work and lashing.

Patrol Leaders

Lee Anderson, troop 21, Ellwood City, and Jim Kane, troop 22, New Castle, will serve as senior patrol leaders in camp. Each will be responsible to their scoutmaster in the administration of the provisional troops.

Other scouts on the camp staff are life scout Bill Hauschild, troop 5, New Castle, camp clerk; Eagle scout James Norton, George Zikeli and Don Milnes of troop 31, Ellwood, waterfront.

The Lawrence county Boy Scouts are a participating agency in the Community Chest.

PASTEURIZATION AT HOME

Sometimes Mom gets a supply of raw milk. She is afraid to take a chance on feeding it to Buster.

She can Pasteurize it herself and her worries will be over. She should do it something like this:

Use a kettle a little taller than the milk bottle. Put a cloth or towel on the bottom of the kettle. Fill the milk bottles with milk and set them on the cloth. Fill the kettle with water so that the milk will be below the top of the water. Put a thermometer in one bottle. Heat the kettle till the thermometer reads 145 degrees, then keep it at that temperature for one half hour. Cool quickly and put in refrigerator.

SAFETY COMMITTEE NEW CASTLE PLANT AMERICAN CYANAMID CO.

Reading from left to right: Joseph F. Park, Supervisor; A. F. Wilkins, President, Local Union No. 241, United Gas, Coke and Chemical Workers of America, CIO; Miss Ida R. Frazier, R. N.; Walter D. Barber, Local Union Treasurer; William P. Kennedy, Local Union Vice-President; R. C. Williams, Assistant Plant Manager; George A. Edwards, Supervisor; Paul W. McQuiston, Maintenance Department; and L. V. Clark, Plant Manager.

New Castle Plant Receives Safety Award For Year

The New Castle plant of the Explosives Division, American Cyanamid company, has been notified of an award by the National Safety Council in recognition of its accident-free operation during the entire NSC Contest period, January 1 to December 31, 1949. Actually, the local plant's safety record exceeds that for which the Safety Council's award was granted, since it has operated from September 15, 1948 to the present time without an accidental injury serious enough to cause a single day's lost-time.

Unusual Safety Record

This is an unusual safety record even in American Cyanamid company whose reputation for accident-free operation is outstanding in the industry. In recognition of the splendid team work and spirit which made this record possible, the parent company last February awarded the management and employes of the New Castle plant the coveted "Award of Merit" bronze plaque.

Nor have the National Safety Council and the Cynamid organization been alone in recognizing the excellent safety record of this plant. In 1948 the New Castle plant was awarded the Certificate of Merit from the Department of Labor and Industry of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and in 1949, it received the department's Certificate of Honor.

This remarkable safety record at the New Castle plant is the product of a deeply rooted philosophy that safety is an integral part of the individual's operation. Safety, the safety of each individual as well as that of his co-workers, is the responsibility of everyone in the plant. It is a matter of team work; of cooperation; of an intelligent regard for the absolute necessity for care and caution in every plant operation.

Makeup Of Committee

The New Castle Safety Committee is composed of members of management and of hourly employees and their union. It meets at a regular time every month to discuss recommendations made by the plant safety inspectors, to evaluate progress and to formulate plans and policies affecting the overall safety program.

A suggestion system helps to impress employee with the fact that each and every one of them is an active participant in the safety program. Employees are urged to submit safety suggestions as well as suggestions for operating and plant improvement, and cash awards are paid for all suggestions adopted by the company.

Ohio To Get Street In Washington

WASHINGTON, July 7.—(INS)—Ohio is going to lose the distinction of being the only state not represented by a Washington street.

On Sunday at 3 p. m. (EDT) Ohio's governor, Frank Lausche, will accept the dedication of a drive around Hains Point, a District of Columbia park, as "Ohio Drive".

International Secretary Chapman will do the dedicating. In addition to Lausche, Ohio will be represented by Rep. Jenkins (R), Rep. McSweeney (D) and other members of the state's congressional delegation.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

By Bennett Cerf

Here's a story that sounds as though it came straight from the headquarters of the Republican National Committee: It was a day late in 1980, when socialized medicine had become the law of the land. A man was seized with a violent cramp in his stomach and sought relief at the modern white structure erected for the purpose in his home town. Upon entering the building, he found himself in a hall with two doors. One was marked "male," the other "female." Naturally, he entered the door marked "male."

He found himself in a room with two doors. One was marked "Over 21," the other "Under 21." Since he was 52, he entered the door marked "Over 21."

He found himself in a room with two doors. One was marked "Serious illness," the other minor indisposition." Since he was doubled up with pain by this time, he staggered through the door marked "Serious illness."

He found himself in a room with two doors. One was marked "Democrats," the other "Republicans." Since he had voted a straight Republican ticket all his life, he entered the door marked "Republicans"—and found himself out on the street.

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

It's the Music Not the Words

Mrs. Barrett thought she was telling six-year-old Bobby one thing when actually it was exactly the opposite impression that she gave. Here's what happened: Mrs. Barrett had read that when children ask questions about sex, one shouldn't beat around the bush. So, when Bobby asked where babies came from, she did her best to be perfectly matter-of-fact in explaining.

Unfortunately, she was embarrassed, awkward and fumbling. So Bobby got the idea that there was something upsetting and "bad" about having babies.

In other ways, too, the music-our-feelings-outweigh our spoken words. If we are very angry with a child but try desperately to be calm, cool and collected, the underlying feeling gets across.

Pleasant yet firm and confident replies to the request of a youngster will be heeded. Whereas much more demanding words uttered in angry or in uncertain tones will give a false impression. It's important to try to bring words and music together.

ICE CREAM OUTPUT

HARRISBURG—Still leading all other states, Pennsylvania ice cream manufacturers in April produced 4,800,000 gallons, five per cent more than in March but six per cent under April 1949 and five per cent less than the 1944-48 average, the State Department of Agriculture reports from federal-state surveys.

Runaway Trucks Damage House For Fifth Time

PITTSBURGH, July 7.—(INS)—Because the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bryan in nearby Hays had been damaged four times by runaway trucks, Pittsburgh city workmen began four days ago to erect a protective curb in front of the house.

They were busy at the job yesterday when a truck ran wild on the hill on which the house is located, and plowed into the house.

Three persons were injured and the house was badly damaged for the fifth time by such an accident.

Hurt were David Kratzer, 19, of Xenia, O., driver of the truck which was hauling steel coils, and two city workmen, George Conner and Wilbur Simon, 52.

Kratzer said the brakes of the truck failed on the steep hill.

Plan Washington Tour Before Arriving Home

(Special To The News)

VALLEY FORGE, Pa., July 6—Boy Scouts from all over the United States started breaking camp today and a homeward trip.

Pennsylvania troops, in the role of hosts, will stay an extra day or two before departing. The Keystone state lads will also help clean up the park.

The rope making exhibit of the Lawrence County troop is still one of the highlights of the jamboree. Every afternoon large crowds have watched two teams of local boys in action.

James Crawford played in the Region Three band in the final pageant and Walter Merritt was a member of the cast.

The New Castle troop plans a short stay and sight seeing tour in Washington. The boys should arrive home early in the morning of July 10.

Blue Ribbon Grand Jury May Hear Pittsburgh Probe

HARRISBURG, July 7.—(INS)—Selection of a blue ribbon grand jury was hinted today in the commonwealth's forthcoming investigation of municipal affairs in Democratic-controlled Pi...

Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti's action in superseding Allegheny county District Attorney William S. Rahauser's scheduled grand jury probe of alleged "free work" in Pittsburgh indicated a new panel will be chosen.

The supersedeas was Margiotti's first official act after joining the all-Republican cabinet of Gov. James H. Duff.

The attorney general is empowered to appoint Pittsburgh lawyer W. Denning Stewart as a special deputy Attorney general to direct the commonwealth's inquiry.

Rahauser, a political ally of Mayor David L. Lawrence now in Europe, had ordered a grand jury to report Monday in the court of Judge Michael A. Musmanno, Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor.

State Capitol

Speculation In State Is Ended

Governor Fills Three Vacancies

HARRISBURG, July 7.—(INS)—Appointment of an attorney general and two justices of the State Supreme Court by Gov. James H. Duff ended 10 days of speculation that pin-pointed every fact except the governor's final nod . . . Newsmen assigned to cover Capitol Hill had filed earlier stories that Pittsburgh attorney Charles J. Margiotti would replace T. McKeen Chidsey as attorney general and that Chidsey and Philadelphia Judge Grover C. Ladner would be the new justices . . . When newsmen found out Margiotti left Pittsburgh early yesterday, they converged on the governor's office . . . The governor then informed them confirmation on the appointments would come as soon as Margiotti reached the capitol . . . Capitol Hill political observers believe the new attorney general is the first in the history of the commonwealth to be appointed by a Democratic and then a Republican governor . . . Margiotti was fired as attorney general in 1938 by Democratic Gov. George H. Earle for sparking an investigation into the administration. . .

Pennsylvania is viewed by Republican forces as one of the seven states which must be captured in the fall general election if they are to control the U. S. Senate . . . The GOP also hopes to pick up six Pennsylvania seats now held by Democrats to swing the balance of power in the House of Representatives . . . The camapign is expected to become so intense in the latter stages that President Truman plans a swing through the aptly named Keystone state to round up votes for incumbent Sen. Francis J. Myers and for the congressional nominees . . . Republicans are confident, however, that the growing nationwide popularity of Governor Duff will propel him into the Senate and add impetus to the congressional elections . . .

A crew of capitol workmen were kept busy this week repairing damage to the attorney general's office and one of the Secretary of the Commonwealths' offices which were damaged by water flooding from a photographer's tray . . . A hose leading to the tray in the corporation bureau spilled water onto the floor . . . The water seeped down electrical fixtures into the second floor office of the attorney general, damaging rugs, walls and woodwork . . . After the minor flood was discovered, a fire bucket was placed in the attorney general's office to catch the remaining water.

Livestock men, science research workers and veterinarians from coast to coast are observing with interest Pennsylvania's million dollar program to knock out Bangs' disease or brucellosis, the most dreaded of all cattle diseases . . . "During the first five months of this year nearly 38,000 calves were vaccinated without cost to the owner, an average of 7,600 per month," said Agriculture Secretary Miles Horst . . . ". It has proved to be one of the greatest aids we have ever had to the success of the program in Pennsylvania" . . . Horst said that since last January Pennsylvania has tested more herds than any other state in the country . . .

United Commercial Travelers To Meet

New Castle Council No. 408, United Commercial Travelers, will have its monthly meeting in the East Lodge room of the Cathedral on Saturday evening at 8 o'clock.

There are only 25 chinchilla coats in the world—each worth from $25,000 to $40,000.

R. L. Stevenson At First Baptist

Rev. R. L. Stevenson, evangelist and Bible teacher of Los Angeles, Calif., will be the visiting speaker Sunday at the First Baptist church, North at East street. Rev. Stevenson is a full time worker for the Charles E. Fuller Foundation in Los Angeles.

For morning subject Rev. Stevenson has chosen "Isaiah's Prophetic Message of Redemption in Jesus Christ" while in the evening he has chosen to speak on "The Christian's Responsibility in Winning the Unsaved to Christ".

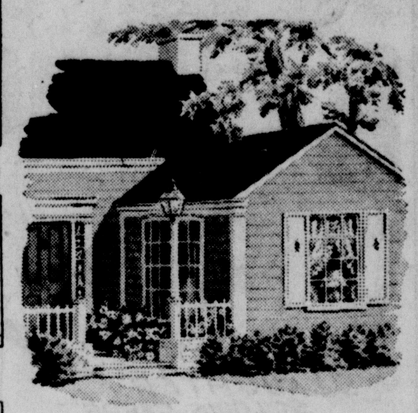

HOG VACCINATION

HARRISBURG—As a measure of disease control, more than 9,000 hogs were vaccinated during May on Pennsylvania farms making a total of 37,284 for the first five months of this year, according to the State Department of Agriculture.

Hit-Happy Senators Split Twin Bill At Vandergrift; Slam Out Five Homers

Breaking out in a rash of base hits—25 in two games, including five home runs—the hustling first place New Castle Senators split a twin bill at Vandergrift last night, winning the opener in 10 inning 11-10, dropping the second game 4-3 in seven innings.

Herb Churchill (8-3) got credit for the first victory after relieving Janacone and going the final 6 1-3 innings. Becka started but gave way to Janacone in the second inning. Stan Zedalis (6-8) continued to pitch in tough luck, losing the second game, giving up only seven hits, going all the way.

Senators Hit Five Homers

Tommy Famiglietti hit his seventh homer in the nightcap, and for the evening had six hits in nine times at bat. Danny Dondero slammed his first homer of the year in the nightcap. Steve Magula made an auspicious start with the Senators last night, hitting a homer and single in the first game before pulling a ligament in his left leg and had to retire. He was used at first base. George DePillo hit his fourth homer in the first game, and Gene Bilo, the Ellwood City speedster, hit his first home run of the year, in the first inning of the first game. He also stole two bases to run his total to 45.

Dick Ackerman replaced Al Mouton at third and came through with five hits in nine trips. Mouton has been in a batting slump.

The Senators lost a half game in the flag race by splitting as Oil City edged Youngstown 3-2, creeping up to within two and a half games. Erie split at Johnstown to remain 4½ behind, Butler won from Niagara Falls and is 5½ behind.

Rossman Goes Tonight

Ben Rossman (8-2), will go to the mound for the Senators tonight to try and give the locals a series edge. Saturday night the Senators move to Youngstown to open a three-game stand, and Frank Wagner is slated to do the pitching.

The Senators should start making it rough in the hitting department now that Famiglietti, DePillo, Ackreman, Dondero, and Magula are banging the apple plenty hard. It is hoped that Magula's leg will respond to treatment and that he will be back in the lineup very shortly.

The Senators are in excellent shape to finish in the first division this year, barring a break down in the pitching staff or injuries. The boys are two and a half games in front as they head for the home-stretch. The season is just half over. The windup is September 4th (Labor Day), two months away.

The Erie Sailors will be here for a three-game stand starting next Tuesday, July, 11th.

British Open To End Today

TROON, Scotland, July 7—(INS)—Three blazing Britons, running a stroke apart at the head of the field, led the way into today's 36-hole windup of the British open golf championship. Three Americans faced the improbable task of even finishing among the leaders.

Little Dai Rees, with a 36-hole count of 139 strokes; William Branch with a 140 and defending champion Bobby Locke of South Africa with a 141 hogged the limelight as the derby route began this morning over the tough, rough Troon links.

America's Johnny Bulla, veteran Pittsburgh pro, entered the final 36 with a score of 143. Big Jim McHale, the Philadelphia amateur, had a 146, while British amateur champ Frank Stranahan of Toledo, O., stood at 147 despite a splendid 70 during his second round yesterday.

Indies Defeat Ecclesians, 6-3

Saints, Universals And Fees Win Games

Universal and St. Margarets will clash under the lights at Flaherty field tonight at 8:15 in an important City Baseball League game.

The Saints are currently riding along in first place in the league, but with the Lawrence Indies in a virtual tie with them and the Uni's only a game and a half back.

A win for the Saints would strengthen their hold on first place and knock Universal two and one half games off the pace.

A win for the Uni's would put the Lawrence Indies out in front with the Saints a half game behind and Universal only one game behind, for a real three-way race.

LAST NIGHT'S GAMES

In last night's City League action the Lawrence Indies, St. Margarets, Universals and Franks were winners. DeCarbos-Field Artillery game was postponed because of wet grounds.

Lawrence Indies kept pace with St. Margarets last night by downing fourth-place Ecclesian Club, 6-3.

Wayne Shelar relieved Dado in the second inning and pitched one-run ball the rest of the way for the win. He struckout five. There were no walks in the game.

Frank, who was relived by Shriver in the third, is charged with the loss.

Third baseman Zeigler led the Indies at the plate with three hits. One of Zeigler's blows was a homer. Shelar, Semansky and Jameson hit doubles for the winners. Annarella poled a homer for the Ecclesian club.

Winning pitcher Felix Bucchioni had three hits in three trips, including a home run. Masters also hit for the circuit. McCullough and Million had triples. Tony Razzano, Orlando, and Tanner doubled.

Hughes started for Franks and was charged with the defeat. Parrott led the winners' attack with three hits. Fazzone had two. No Frank player had more than one hit. Kearns had a double.

Gerdy's single with the bases loaded in the sixth was the big blow for Universal.

Enfeebled Cards Win 13 To 1; Idle Tigers See Lead Reduced

By CHARLES EINSTEIN
(I. N. S. Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, July 7.—If those aged, infirm, decrepit and enfeebled St. Louis Cardinals ever get tired—as they were supposed to long ago—it will be from running bases.

Eddie Dyers' brigade of never-say-die hustlers still ruled the National league today, winners of seven straight games in their latest streak which last night all but wiped Cincinnati off the map.

The Cards, who didn't place a single pitcher on the National league all-star team, faced an all-star nominee last night in Ewell Blackwell of the Reds.

Cards Win, 13-1

The home team was slightly less than awed. Blackwell wasn't around to see the first inning in its entirety, but it was something to see. St. Louis scored 10 times and went on to win the game, 13 to 1, behind the seven-hit ptiching of Alpha Brazle.

Both the Phils and Dodgers won yesterday. Philadelphia outgunned the New York Giants, 9 to 6, and rookie righthander Bob Miller chose the occasion to gain his eighth victory in an all-winning campaign.

The Dodgers' Preacher Roe became a 10-game winner by topping the Boston Braves, 8 to 3.

This put Brooklyn within half a game of the third-place Bostons.

Cubs Humble Bucs

The Chicago Cubs collected three runs in the last half of the eighth inning to subdue the Pirates at Chicago, 4 to 2.

In the American league, Detroit's league leaders, who open a vital set with the Cleveland Indians tonight, didn't play yesterday. In the meantime, both second-place New York and third-place Cleveland won to reduce the Tigers' league leadership to three and a half games.

Yogi Berra's ninth-inning double with two out scored Gene Woodling from first base to give the Yanks at 5-to-4 victory over the Philadelphia A's, who now stand only a half game ahead of last-place St. Louis.

For Cleveland, Early Wynn held the Chicago White Sox to four hits as the Tribe won, 5 to 2.

Stags Lose, 10-3, To Westinghouse

Stags lost to Sharon Westinghouse 10-3 Thursday evening at Cascade field. Earlier in the season the Stegs topped the same team at Sharon.

Fate Of Excise Tax Repeal Bill In Doubt

WASHINGTON, July 7.—(INS) —Ser te hearings on an excise tax repeal bill showed increasing signs today of being poin'ed only toward standby legislation.

Indications that the Korean military job may take longer than was expected brought new doubts about whether the Senate will go through with action on the House-passed bill repealing a billion dollars a year in excises and replacing the revenue by higher corporate levies and loophole closing.

Begins To Doubt

Sen. Millikin (R) Col., previously a strong advocate of excise tax reductions, admitted today that he is beginning to doubt whether world conditions will permit passage of the legislation.

But he declared that the committee must have its bill ready in the event that war clouds clear away and make the action feasible late this month.

He said:

"We've got to be ready with the bill if this thing clears up."

Finance Chairman George (D) Ga,. had said earlier that the bill might be abandoned if the Korean crisis becomes more rious.

Meanwhile, the committee is hearing a parad of industrial spokesmen who are urging that the excise tax reductions be carried throuhg promptly.

In some lines, such as furs, dealers complain that their business is slowed down to a walk because of the uncertainty about what Congress is going t' do.

Ginnocchi Hurls One-Hit Victory

Jerry Ginnocchi of the New Castle Post 343, American Legion team, hurled a two-hit, 9-0 win over Wampum-Chewton last night at Chewton field.

The game was the first in a best-of-three elimination series to determine a county representative in a state Legion tournament.

Ginnocchi was in command all the way. He walked only two and fanned five. His teammates played errorless ball.

Four runs in the second inning gave Ginnocchi a comfortable 5-0 lead.

Bender led the local hitters with three hits in four trips to the plate. Fazzone and Costello each banged a triple.

New Castle will enter quarter-final play at East Palestine tonight. East Liverpool will be the opponent in a game previously washed out. The team will leave the Legion home at 4:30.

Rounders Lead In Pottery Loop

Rounders grabbed an early lead in the second half of the Shenango Pottery golf league last night at Sylvan Heights.

It was the first competition in the second half. Engineering won the first half. The Rounders now have a nine-point lead over their nearest rivals.

Postal Service Cuts Are Discussed By Babson

By ROGER W. BABSON
(Copyright—1950—Publishers Financial Bureau, Inc.)

BABSON PARK, Mass., July 7—The present war talk, due to the trial balloon sent up by Russia in Korea, does not worry me. Certainly, it should not cause readers to overlook the silly cuts which the Post Office department has started. This in the end may be more serious.

Changes That Have Been Made

If you live in the residential area of a city or town containing a first or second class post office, your mail is now delivered to your home only once a day rather than twice a day. There is also a better than even chance that you will not get it until afternoon. If you have a business in one of these cities which is located in a so-called "business area" you may get more deliveries. However, if your office or business is located in a "residential area", you must struggle along with a single daily delivery.

Roger W. Babson

Of course, many readers living in semi-rural areas beyond the outskirts of the cities and town, and on farms, are glad to get their mail only once a day. But in addition to curtailing delivery service, the Post Office department has made sweeping cuts in pick ups from street letter boxes in cities and towns. It has also eliminated much of the night work in post offices which formerly was such a great help in moving the mail quickly and efficiently. These latter cuts will be held by everybody who writes to or receives mail from cities. This means you.

Why the Cuts Were Ordered

For the first time since the establishment of a post office on this continent nearly 260 years ago, we find our American postal service taking a step backwards. Why? We are told that the cuts were ordered to save money and to bring the Post Office department budget within the amount suggested by congressional leaders. This may be true. If it is true, it seems strange that the men who run the Post Office department are making no apparent attempt to save money in ways other than the curtailment of service. Is it not possible that these cuts in service were engineered to divert public attention from the acute need for straemlining and further mechanizing the postal service?

Reorganization Is Urgently Needed

Many people claim that the postal service is grossly mismanaged. I do not know whether that is true, bu there doubtless are many instances of inefficiency and stupidity which cost us taxpayers needless heavy expenditures. For example, look carefully at the post office trucks operating in your vicinity. Note the large number of old ones which cost more to run and maintain than they are worth. The Hoover Commission found that the average age of these postal vehicles was 15½ years.

The next time you are in your post office, glance into where the mail is being handled. You will find obsolete equipment and lay out unadapted to moving the mail as quickly and as cheaply as possible. It is true that the post office does not control the amounts paid to railroads, steamships and airlines for moving the mail. Nor does it control the inexcusably heavy volume of government mail which it must handle at a loss. It can, however, control its own employees and ought to revamp its procedures before resorting to curtailing services.

P. O. Cuts Mean Higher Prices

The slowdown in mail movements will become worse by early fall when mail volume normally increases. Already, delays of from 24 to 48 hours are being reported in the delivery of first class letters. Mail order businesses and those firms which depend chiefly on rapid turnover to keep above the break-even point will suffer the most and some unemployment is bound to occur. This will result in higher prices for merchandise. Another effect will be an eventual drop in postal revenues. An ill-conceived plan like this is bound to backfire. It is false economy of the worst type.

These poorly planned postal cuts reflect the confusion which prevails in official circles in Washington. More disturbing still es,-pecially in this instance, is the apathy of our people. Although the majority of our people are gravely affected by these changes, yet very few have actively objected. These cuts receive surprisingly little attention from the masses of the people. Indifference such as this has resulted in loss of liberty in other lands. Shall we, too, lose our rights and services, and ultimately our liberty, by neglect and inaction.

The average incubation period for rabies is from 21 to 40 days after exposure.

Local Missionaries To Embark For Home

Word has been received by Woodson W. Collins of 411 Epworth street that his brother-in-law and sister and family, Rev. and Mrs. Frederick A. Smith, missionaries to Colombia, South America, would embark for the United States on July 15, arriving in the port of New York city on July 24.

The missionary couple with their five children will proceed to New Castle, after several days in New York for physical examinations and a visit to Rev. Smith's parents in Pitman, N. J. Upon arrival in this city, the family will take up residence at 427 Northview avenue. They will spend their Sabbatical leave of one year, here in the city.

The Smiths have completed two terms of service of five years each in Colombia. Their family consists of Elenita, aged 11; Carolita, aged nine; Freddie, Jr., aged five; and the twins, David Edward and Linda Ruth, aged two. The couple are members of the Alliance Gospel Tabernacle, 210 Pearson street.
